

PRESIDENT ONCE HYDE TO DIRECT AGAIN BECOMES MUTUALIZATION "COL. TEDDY" OF EQUITABLE

Theodore Roosevelt Lays Aside Dignity of State to Fraternize With His Former Comrades of Rough Rider Regiment.

MEETS HIS "BOYS" IN GUARDED CAMP. TRY NOW TO PREVENT FURTHER DISCLOSURES.

For an Afternoon the Former Commander of the Famous Cavalry Organization Hobnobs With the Khaki-Clothed Veterans.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., April 7.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon the President of the United States, Theodore Roosevelt, to all intents and purposes, ceased to be. At the same hour Col. "Teddy" Roosevelt, the idealized commander of the First United States Volunteer Cavalry, better known as the "Rough Riders," became a "hail fellow well met" with his old comrades at the fair grounds, where the regiment holds its reunion and jollification behind guard lines.

At 3:30 this morning a citizens' committee of San Antonio met President Roosevelt and his party at his private car, in which he had enjoyed a good night's rest, and escorted him to the fair grounds, where he reviewed the national troops.

Returning to the city the President was driven to the speakers' stand directly before the battle-scarred Alamo, where he delivered an address. Immediately afterward he joined his comrades at the fair grounds, the original mustering-in place of the regiment.

The city is a blaze of bunting and flags and even the somber old Alamo, the shrine of Texas, has not escaped, but is gaily festooned. Rough Riders are everywhere and the city is theirs. All day the railroads have been pouring thousands into the city, and the reception accorded the President was boundless in its enthusiasm.

A close inspection makes it plain that there are two kinds of Rough Riders, the professional Rough Rider, and the plain Rough Rider. The professional Rough Riders are the ones who have cashed in on their connection with the President's regiment. They mostly did official jobs. They wear cloth khaki suits that cost about $40 a piece and are neat and natty, and denote prosperity. The plain Rough Riders content themselves with a yellow badge or with the common cotton khaki. They are the chaps who have not yet been forehanded enough to collect a job. Most of them have hopes.

All the leaders of the professionals are here, including Maj. Lievelly, who has an official job, and Ben Daniels, the fero dealer, among them are others who are marshals and deputy marshals, and district attorneys, and land agents, and all that sort of thing.

Your true Rough Rider never speaks of Mr. Roosevelt as President. He calls him a closer bond and calls him "Colonel." They intend to whoop it up at the fair grounds. They intend to whoop it up as soon as he gets to the city. Then guards were put on the gates and from 1 o'clock until 1:30 p. m. was admitted. The President and his soldiers having their high jinks all to themselves.

Among the first arrivals were several distinguished pickpockets who expected a harvest and are reaping it. They have been following the President since he started and have worked in the crowds at all the larger cities. Last night they had cleaned up the crowd at Dallas and they went through a train there and cleaned that up too.

The sleepers were filled with men clamoring for berths. The pickpockets pushed through clamoring for berths, too. When they had finished they had about a thousand dollars of other people's money.

Coroner Says Embalming Fluid Would Prevent His Determining Cause of Death.

Coroner Jules Baron believes that it would be useless to disinter the body of Mrs. Mary Schultz, as advised by Chief of Police O'Neill of Chicago, but he will follow out the desires of Circuit Attorney Bager, should he insist that the body be taken up.

Mrs. Schultz was the wife of the man who is supposed to be Johann Hoch, the bigamist, now under arrest in Chicago, charged with murdering one of his wives. Coroner Baron's objection is based on the statement of Benjamin Lohrm, an agent for the Champion Medical Supply Co., that he supplied John Hahn of 322 Arsenal street, who embalmed the body of Mrs. Schultz, with all the embalming fluid he used in 1903; and that this embalming fluid contained arsenic. Mrs. Schultz's relatives believe she died of arsenical poisoning.

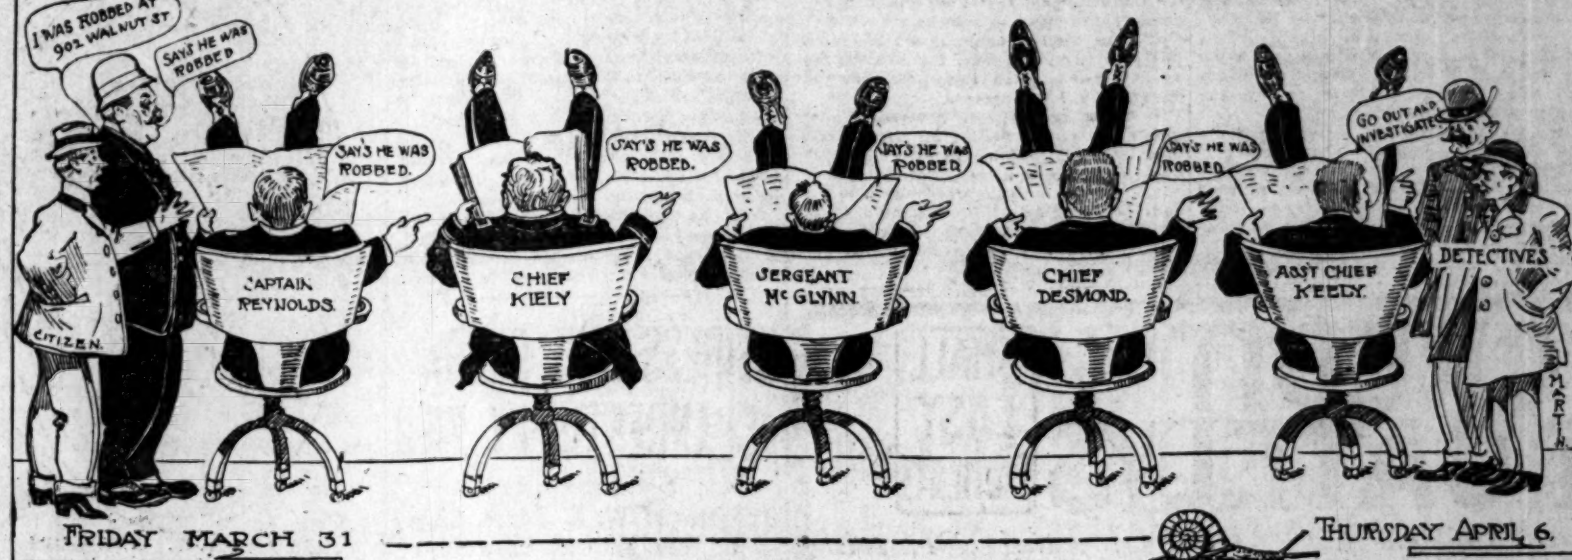

Such being the case, says Coroner Baron, it would be impossible to tell whether the arsenic entered the body before or after death.

FIRE WAGON OVERTURNED.

While responding to an alarm from Thirtieth and Wash streets at 1 o'clock Friday afternoon the chemical wagon of Engine company No. 12, at Seventh and Franklin avenues, made a sharp turn at Twelfth and Main streets, and was overturned by a wagon of a dairy company driven by Samuel C. Gasson of 238 Thomas street, and was overturned.

John Angelo, captain of the chemical wagon, and Frank Perrino, driver, were slightly injured. The other two men on the chemical wagon escaped injury. The front axle of the chemical wagon was broken.

Police are investigating a Frenchmen called on for explanations—Scheme to make the President a prisoner.

PARIS, April 7.—The French secret police are investigating a rumored plot to overthrow the present government. The authorities' inquiry has not yet determined whether the supply of arms and ammunition recently seized in a suburb of Paris were accumulated in anticipation of such an attempt or by the promoters of an African expedition.

The theory that a revolutionary movement was planned by prominent army officers is given serious attention by leaders of the administration.

One rumor has it that Gen. de Negrier and former War Minister Cavaignac, both of whom are traveling abroad, have been summoned home in connection with the investigation.

La Peirce publishes the statement that the house of Col. Marchand, of Fashoda fame, who is now in Morocco, has been searched by the police.

Veiled allusions are made by the same paper to many other prominent military men and civilians who are said to have been involved in the conspiracy.

From a local agency comes the assertion that a part of the plot was to imprison President Loubet in a house in the Bois de Boulogne.

It is admitted that Premier Rouvier and other government officials have recently received warnings that a prominent general, a former cabinet minister and a number of deputies were plotting together to upset the present and form a new government.

Weak Board Precipitates Child Into Well on St. Louis County Farm.

A little daughter of Edward Brinkmann fell into a well on the Grabbe farm, near the Fifteen Mile House on the Manchester road, Friday forenoon and was drowned. The farmer almost lost his life in trying to save her.

Brinkmann moved Thursday from the Fleming estate at the Eleven Mile House on the Grabbe farm. There was a well or the place covered with boards, which were thought to be strong enough to make it safe, but one of the boards broke under the weight of the child and precipitated it into the well.

An alarm was given immediately and a ladder was lowered into the well. Brinkmann descended on it, and his weight caused it to sink so deep under the water that he was unable to pull it up. He kept his head above the surface.

He caught the child's body, however, and was able to keep afloat until a rope was thrown to him, but when he was drawn out it was found that the child he held in his arms was dead.

Coroner Koch will hold an inquest Friday afternoon.

ALOE TOOK LEAD OVER HAGERMAN FOR COLLECTOR

Republican Wipes Out Democrat's Plurality of 365 and Gains 33 Votes in Addition in Recount of Ballots.

TWO YOUNG MEN FIGHT FOR RICH $40,000 PRIZE.

Election Commissioners' Office Crowded With Partisans Watching—At 1:30 p. m. Hagerman Claimed Lead of 11.

Louis P. Aloe claimed at 12 o'clock noon Friday that he had been elected collector of St. Louis.

His opponent, James Hagerman, Jr., admitted at that time, when the official count as far as the Thirteenth ward had been completed, that Mr. Aloe was ahead of him in the race, but by only about 25 votes.

Aloe claimed a plurality of 33. Hagerman's published plurality (unofficial) was 365.

The official count, which commenced Thursday morning, shows that Aloe has gained 238 votes—giving him a lead of 33—as follows:

Second ward, 31; Fourth ward, 10; Seventh ward, 1; Ninth ward, 2; Tenth ward, 5; Eleventh ward, 10; Twelfth ward, 56.

At 1:30 o'clock Glenn B. Arnold, attorney for Mr. Hagerman, claimed that at the end of the count of the Twelfth ward Hagerman led by 11 votes. Mr. Aloe the same time claimed that he was in lead by 23 votes. Members of the Board of Election Commissioners said that nothing definite would be known until they had concluded the count and added all of the figures.

A dramatic scene is being enacted in the office of the election commissioners of St. Louis, where the official count of the vote at Tuesday's election is in progress.

Two young men—Aloe, a business man, and Hagerman, a lawyer and literary man—are fighting for a $40,000 prize—the collectorship of St. Louis, with a salary of $10,000 a year for four years.

The collector not only receives twice as much pay as the mayor of the city, but he has a patronage including 75 deputies and handles millions of dollars every year.

The city payroll alone amounts to $4,400,000 annually.

One hundred and fifty friends and partisans of the two opposing candidates, as well as other candidates on the several tickets, who are anxious on their own account, crowded in the election commissioners' office to listen to the official count.

Among them were Al Wagerman, Nat Goldstein, Sam Harris, Norman Fleishman, George P. Weinbrenner, the new city marshal, P. J. Reagan, J. J. O'Brien, William C. Fritz and Joseph A. Duffy.

Rivals Watch.

At one end of a long table sat Louis P. Aloe, his overcoat off, busy and excited. Every minute or so he would jump up, leaning over to speak to some friend and questioner or pushing through the crowd to get to another.

A few feet away stood his rival, James Hagerman, Jr. As silent as the Sphinx, with a long gray mackintosh almost touching his heels, with his glasses carefully adjusted, and with calm eyes but compressed lips, he listened to the humdrum voice of the announcer as he called off the vote for the various candidates.

Busy in his behalf was his brother, Leo W. Hagerman, another numerous friend.

The count progressed, young Hagerman gave no sign, but he admitted that his opponent was slightly ahead of him at noon, with 18 wards yet to hear from, notably the aristocratic and populous Twenty-eighth.

But Aloe and Hagerman are not the only candidates who are interested in the official count.

The political complexion of both the City Council and the House of Delegates may be affected by the time canvass is over.

The Sixteenth ward is anxiously awaiting the count because of the race between Timothy Maloney, Democratic candidate for the House of Delegates, who beat William J. Brennan, the Municipal Ownership candidate, by only 26 votes out of a total of 304.

DOG-POISONERS NOW WORK ON MINERVA AV.

Two Animals Found Dead and a Third Is Saved by Prompt Treatment.

The mysterious epidemic of dog poisoning which has agitated West End residents for a week or more was emphasized Friday morning by developments showing that a dead body of a dog belonging to Dr. William H. Wright of 1223 Minerva Avenue had been found.

The dog, which was found lying on its back, was a small, light-colored animal, and was found by a boy named Joseph A. Duffy, who lives at 1223 Minerva Avenue.

The life of the dog was saved, however, by prompt treatment. An investigation of the case is being made.

DID TRACTION MONEY SEND INNOCENT GIRL TO A FELON'S CELL?

Illinois State Senator Asks Governor to Investigate Charge
That Crippled Victim of Chicago Street Car Accident
Was "Railroaded" to Prison for Seeking Damages.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 7.—Intimating that a helpless and crippled girl has been "railroaded" into the penitentiary by the Chicago street railroad companies, State Senator J. J. Hulme offered a resolution today asking Gov. Yates to save the young woman from prison.

The girl, Inga Hansen, a member of the Salvation Army, claimed to have been permanently injured in a street car accident and sued for damages. The street railroad attorneys accused her of perjury, convicted her and secured her sentence for an indeterminate period to the penitentiary. Senator Hulme's resolution quotes authority for the statement that the street car companies spent $50,000 in prosecuting the case; that Miss Hansen is paralyzed and absolutely helpless, and that the best element of her Scandinavian compatriots in Chicago believe her innocent.

On these grounds the governor "is requested to put in motion all the powerful machinery of the state to secure such reports as he may deem proper, and if, in his judgment, the case warrants it, to prevent the sending of Inga Hansen to the penitentiary and to grant her a complete pardon with full restoration of all civil rights."

CUPID IN CHOIR ATTUNED THESE TWO HEARTS IN LIFE'S HARMONY

Wedding of Amelia Germann, East St. Louis Teacher, and J. Morton Tenney, Follows Acquaintance That Began in Church Service.

J. Morton Tenney of St. Louis and Miss Amelia Germann, until last week a teacher in the Irving School, East St. Louis, were married Thursday night at the home of the bride's parents, 1801 Gay avenue.

The wedding is the culmination of a courtship of several months. Rev. J. N. Borah, pastor of the Gay Avenue M. E. Church, who said the wedding ceremony, is a brother-in-law of the groom, and because of that fact the young man attended services there. As the possessor of a good basso voice, he soon became a member of the choir. Miss Germann sang soprano there.

Only the immediate relatives of the young people were present at the ceremony. After the wedding supper, the couple left at once for New York on a wedding journey.

HEIRESS AND CLERK CLANDESTINELY WED

Daughter of W. J. White, Chewing Gum Magnate, Becomes Bride of Hotel Employee.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 7.—Miss Pearl M. White, daughter of W. J. White, a millionaire chewing gum manufacturer of Cleveland and former congressman, was secretly married here at St. Luke's Episcopal Church to James L. Bancroft, who, three weeks ago, was one of the leading hoteliers at Palm Beach, Fla.

The wedding was the culmination of a romance which started with love at first sight. Bancroft gave up his position on the second day of his honeymoon. His home is in Brookline, Mass., and he is 25 years old. His parents are poor.

After the young people's first meeting Bancroft was invited to join a golfing party, which was held at the hotel. His presence became so marked that society at Palm Beach was astounded, and the couple became the subject of much gossip.

The bride's mother promptly answered a telegram announcing the marriage, but the father is much displeased. Mrs. Bancroft, just before leaving, said: "I know that father will forgive and receive James and me with open arms."

CONSIDERING FRANCHISE BILL.

Mayor Takes Under Advisement Proposed Railway Scheme.

After granting a second hearing on the bill providing for a franchise for the proposed Manufacturers' Railway on South Second street, Mayor Wells has taken the bill under advisement. He still has several days to either sign or veto the measure.

At the hearing Thursday afternoon there were present opposing the bill: J. F. Kerr, representing property owners; W. B. Rankin, F. B. Crunden, representing the Manufacturers' Railway Co.; Charles Claflin Allen, representing property owners; E. P. Schneiderman, the South St. Louis Protective Association; F. H. Gerhardt, Citizens' Municipal Free Bridge and Improved Terminal Association; W. K. Kavanaugh, president Higgins Ferry Co.; H. A. Diamond and Martin L. Clardy, the Iron Mountain Railroad.

Urging that the mayor sign the bill were: Benjamin Schumacher, L. D. Klingensmith, president St. Louis Manufacturers' Association, and Judge G. A. Finkelberg. The objections made to the bill were that it grants a perpetual franchise, that there will be three separate crossings of the street railway tracks, that it fails to prohibit the grantees from combining or pooling with other roads, and that the compensation offered the city was inadequate. It was contended by representatives of the Iron Mountain that it would only mean additional terminal charges to those already imposed on shippers and receivers of freight.

President Smith Refuses Floor to Mormon Dissenters Who Voice Dissatisfaction.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, April 7.—Joseph F. Smith was sustained as prophet, seer and revelator by unanimous vote of the members of the Mormon church at the opening session of the seventy-fifth annual conference. When the vote was taken to sustain the 12, two men objected, but were not permitted to speak by President Smith. The members who dissented stated afterward that they desired to protest against sustaining such officers of the church as live in polygamy.

In his address President Smith referred to some recent criticisms of the policy of the church under his leadership, condemning his critics who are or have been within the church, as "bolls, caruncles and other excrescences of the body of the organization." Speaking generally of the expenditures, he said the church had purchased a piece of land in Jackson County, Missouri, for the erection of a temple as foretold by the prophet. Joseph Smith, said that large sums had been expended in foreign lands, including Great Britain, Norway, Sweden and the islands of the South seas, where land had been bought and churches established.

FORBADE BOY TO SHOW FOOT TO JURY

Judge Wouldn't Let Lad Take Off Stocking in Suit Over Loss of 3 Toes.

Judge Adams declined to allow August Hoffman, 12 years old, to remove his stockings to show a jury in the United States Circuit Court why he thinks he is entitled to recover $4500 from the Wabash Railway Co. for the loss of three toes of his right foot.

The boy is suing through his "next friend," his mother, Mrs. Julia Hoffman, who resides at May street and North Broadway. According to his testimony Friday morning, he was walking across the Wabash railroad tracks near his home, on his way down to the river, April 9, 1904, when an engine suddenly started and backed up a freight car, which ran over his foot.

The railroad company asserts that the boy was trying to steal a ride on a car and fell off.

The boy wore only a stocking on his right foot when he appeared in court. He was accompanied by his mother and several boy friends.

SAFE BURGLAR IN WINDOW UNMOLESTED

Although He Worked 20 Minutes With Hammer Police Didn't See Him.

SMASHED HINGES AND BOLTS

When Doors Still Held, He Took Fifty Pennies From Till and Left.

Working in a corner enclosed by two large show windows looking out upon Fourth street and Wash street, a burglar Thursday night did not seem to be molested by the police. He was seen to open with a sledge hammer, get 50 1-cent pieces from a desk as his reward, and left without being detected by a policeman or a night watchman.

The safe was in full view through the windows from both streets, and the burglar, according to the expert who was called to open the wrecked safe Friday morning, worked at least 20 minutes in bungling and noisy fashion.

The safe was in the office of Varwig & Schmidt, fruit and commission merchants, 929-931 North Fourth street. The office is in the northeast corner of the building, on the first floor.

The store was closed at 6 o'clock Thursday evening and opened at 4 o'clock Friday morning. The burglar, whose execution was seen when Schmidt went to the safe to pay for an early delivery of fruit and vegetables. He found that the hinges, handle and combination had been broken off and the door of the safe had been open with a sledge hammer, get 50 1-cent pieces from a desk as his reward, and left without being detected by a policeman or a night watchman.

Smashed Telephone Box.

In the office is a toll telephone. This safe was broken open by the burglar, and the burglar swung his hammer against the money box. He broke the casing, but failed to get any money.

In the safe was $75, which was kept on hand for early purchases. There was no light burning in the office. Several weeks ago Chief of Police Kieley issued orders that patrolmen should report the business houses which were left dark. Police Capt. Johnson says no report of this was made.

The chief's instructions have nothing to do with the whistles of the merchants, said Capt. Johnson to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "If they want to leave the lights burning they will do so, if they do not, they will not."

Capt. Johnson was asked how long it took patrolmen to make the rounds on that beat. He said he didn't know and offered a problem in mathematics as the rest of his answer.

"How long do you think," he asked, "it would require to walk from Fourth street and Washington avenue to Seventh street, thence to Wash street, thence to Fourth street, and thence back to Washington avenue, to try all the doors, and examine the cases streets?"

The reporter made a guess, and said he might do all that in an hour.

"What?" exclaimed the captain; "you couldn't do it in two hours."

MIXES CANDY ON GRAVESTONE.

Purchaser of Confectionery Factory Makes Peculiar Discovery.

DES MOINES, Mo., April 7.—E. P. Drake recently purchased the Mann candy store at Tenth and Center streets. Yesterday he tipped over a counter and discovered the marble top, which has been used in the manufacture of taffy, was apparently a headstone to mark the grave of Henry Waldron, who died in 1846. The Manns, who sold the store to Drake, were as much surprised at the find as he, the slab having been in the establishment for many years.

ATHLETICS BAD FOR MORALS.

That Is Opinion of Iowa City School Superintendent.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

DES MOINES, Mo., April 7.—The charge that high-school athletics combined football and basketball and billiards, track work and beer was made by Superintendent R. K. Stevenson of the Iowa city public schools here the day before yesterday. Students in the Iowa City High School have attempted for several days to secure permission to play under the authority of the school, but this has been refused. At the last meeting of the board of directors, the school was elected, and the boys again attempted to secure recognition from the board. Final action has not been taken in the matter.

Explosion in Blazing Chimney.

A bundle of papers thrown into a grate fire at the residence of H. W. Elliot, 288 Locust street, Friday morning, set the chimney on fire and caused a slight explosion. An alarm brought the fire department before serious damage was done.

MECHAN MAY BE HOUSE SPEAKER

Understood Delegate From Twenty-First Ward Is Choice of Dem. Majority.

Dem. Majority.

Daniel F. Meehan of the Twenty-first ward is understood to be the choice of the Democratic majority in the House of Delegates for speaker.

Mr. Meehan was a member of the last House and was chosen speaker pro tem when it was organized by the administration. He was "rolled" when the Butlerites reorganized the body.

Fred Wiedmer, re-elected from the Twenty-third ward, and mentioned in connection with the speakership, says he is not a candidate.

The speakership is somewhat more important this year in view of the fact that the president of the Council is a Republican.

Should the mayor conclude to take a vacation at the same time as the Republican president of the Council, it would leave the speaker of the House acting mayor.

"SPARE THE LIFE OF 'BILL' RUDOLPH"

Petition for Commutation of Sentence to Life Imprisonment Signed by Jailers.

A petition for commutation of the sentence of "Bill" Rudolph, whose execution is set for April 17, is being circulated by Rudolph's lawyer, James A. Finch. James L. Dawson, who has been Rudolph's jailer for two years, and Emil Karst, assistant jailer, have signed it, among others.

The petition asks that the sentence be commuted to life imprisonment, and recites the belief of the signers that the safety of society will be as well conserved by the imprisonment as by death. The argument is advanced that Rudolph, who is 25 years old, is too young to be hanged, and that justice does not demand his execution.

It is expected that the circulation of the petition will be completed and the documents forwarded to Gov. Folk within three or four days.

GIRL VICTIM OF A "JACK THE RIPPER"

New York Woman Fatally Stabbed in a Manner That Recalls Famous Whitechapel Cases.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Elements of mystery recalling the stories of "Jack the Ripper," who terrorized the Whitechapel district in London years ago, surround the sensational stabbing today in a Thirteenth street hotel of a young woman who died in a hospital a few hours afterward.

James Boyne, a club steward whom the police have under arrest, although admitting he was in the woman's company a short time before she was injured, declares he does not know how she was killed.

The woman, whose name was Mamie Wilson, was stabbed in the abdomen with a very long knife. The character of the cut was similar to that made on the victims of "Jack the Ripper."

Boyne says he was with the woman last night, but said Mrs. Wilson left him and he did not know how she was stabbed. When he was arrested it was found that seven of his teeth had been knocked out and that one of his eyes had been blackened.

CLUB LIFE WORRIED WIFE.

Mrs. Phillips Files Depositions in Her Divorce Suit.

Depositions in support of Mrs. Ruby L. Phillips' allegations in her petition for divorce, that her husband, James M. Phillips, drove her from their home in Vicksburg, Miss., by his behavior and his unjust accusations, were filed Friday in Judge Douglas' division of the Circuit court.

John H. O. Worrell, a Vicksburg merchant, deposes that Mrs. Phillips had to leave Vicksburg because of her husband's club life, as he would absent himself from his home several nights in succession.

Another deponent, was by Mrs. Ollie Perry, also of Vicksburg. Her testimony was that Phillips was very jealous, and that he employed his two daughters, Nellie J., now 17, and Myrtle D., now 15, to perform the same service.

WIFE WON'T LEAVE OKLAHOMA.

George Simpson's Basis for Divorce in Suit Filed.

George Simpson, business manager for a monthly publication, Friday filed suit for divorce from Myrtle Simpson, whom he married at Clayton May 8, 1899. He alleges desertion.

Back of the petition is a story of the Oklahoma rush. Simpson and his bride "located" a piece of land in Oklahoma and remained there with Simpson's mother for a year. They returned to St. Louis but after another year went back to Oklahoma. By agreement, the wife remained in Oklahoma to maintain the title to the land, while Simpson returned to his St. Louis business.

Recently the land was sold, Simpson and Mrs. Simpson getting each a half of the proceeds. Now Simpson alleges that his wife refused to leave Oklahoma and return to him in St. Louis.

WIELDER OF ROAST ARRESTED.

Man Who Struck Friend With Beef Held for Homicide.

Nicholas Papanikolaou, the slayer of Paul Kallivas, must answer to the courts on a charge of homicide. He is now under arrest.

He engaged in a fight with Kallivas in the Laclede Hotel basement, where they were employed, March 28, during which he struck Kallivas on the head with a large piece of roast beef. Kallivas died. Rivalry over a woman led to the fatal fight. An inquest was held Friday morning.

Rev. M. Y. Metcalf to Be Ordained

An ordination service will be held at Third Baptist Church, Grand and Washington avenues, at 5 o'clock Friday evening, at which Rev. M. Y. Metcalf will be ordained minister of the Baptist church.

Rev. Dr. William J. Williamson, pastor of the church, will preach the ordination sermon.

Her Divorce Suit Dismissed.

The suit of Emma Gelbart against Sig. Gelbart, asking for a divorce on the ground of mistreatment, was dismissed in Judge Taylor's courtroom Thursday afternoon on motion of the plaintiff. The petition was filed Feb. 23, alleging that the couple were married March 30, 1903 and separated Jan. 15, 1905.

Atterbury System

THE clothes of gentility can be made only by hand, just as all ATTERBURY CLOTHES are made. We admit there are a few large manufacturers who produce very presentable garments by machinery, and they'll hold their shape for a time. But something is lacking. If there wasn't the manufacturer would soon drive the custom tailor out of business. That "something" is Everything. It is character and unquestioned style which machines cannot produce.

ATTERBURY CLOTHES being hand-made and perfectly formed impart character to the wearer. Machine-made clothing conforms promptly to the defects of the figure. Not one man in ten is perfectly formed, hence nothing short of hand-tailored clothing can possibly fill the bill.

THE ATTERBURY SYSTEM is the custom tailor on an enlarged scale. It's the modern idea.

AUTO CLUB TO TEST 50 CENT FEE LAW

St. Louis Automobilists Sustain Dr. Senseney in Refusing to Pay for Issuing License.

COUNTY CLERK IS UPHELD.

Prosecuting Attorney Says He Is Entitled to Half Dollar Under State Statute.

Albert B. Lambert, president of the St. Louis Automobile Club, announced Friday that the club will use the case of Dr. E. M. Senseney to test the right of the county clerk of St. Louis County to charge each applicant for a license a fee of 50 cents. Dr. Senseney's case is set for trial before Justice Stobie at Westport next Tuesday. Mr. Lambert says an appeal will be taken if the justice assesses a fine or costs against the physician.

Dr. Senseney was taken into custody by the sheriff at Clayton Wednesday afternoon because he refused to pay County Clerk John Ruhl the 50-cent fee.

He was released on furnishing a $300 cash bond. Mr. Lambert and A. Peugnet were with Dr. Senseney. Previously Dr. Senseney had been halted by a deputy sheriff at Clayton for driving an auto without a county license.

Mr. Lambert said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday that Dr. Senseney and party went to Clayton with intent to lay the preliminaries for testing the 50-cent fee law. Dr. Senseney had no license at the time.

Both sides admit the interview between Senseney, Lambert, and Peugnet and the county officials, including County Clerk Ruhl, Sheriff Herpel and Prosecuting Attorney Johnston was acrimonious to a degree.

County Clerk Ruhl says when he asked Senseney for the half-dollar, the physician demanded to know what the fee was for. "He asked it in such a way," Ruhl declares, "that I refused to tell him."

Prosecuting Attorney Johnston is as positive that the county clerk is entitled to the 50 cents as his auto leaders are that he is not.

The law provides that the county clerk shall have a fee of 50 cents for each license he issues. "I have given an opinion to Mr. Ruhl, under that provision, he is entitled to the fee for auto licenses the same as any other license," the autoists point out. On the other hand, there is no specific mention of a fee for issuing an auto license in the statute.

Friction between automobilists and county officials has gradually increased since the passage of a state law two years ago providing that automobilists shall have a license from each separate county through which they run. Only a few autoists secured licenses last year and the county officials decided that they were entitled to the 50 cents from each man that ran a machine along the county roads.

The autoists say they decided to get more than that.

The September grand jury indicted a chauffeur named Parkhurst for running without a license, according to Mr. Johnston, and he paid a fine of $10.

Subsequent grand jury action started the automobile world by indicting Miss Ruby Pulverton, a "St. Louis" driver, for speeding an auto in the county at an excessive rate.

This spring the officials have begun a crusade in earnest. One hundred and sixty-eight licenses have been taken out by autoists. Sheriff Herpel has furnished each of his deputies and every constable in the county with a list of those who have taken out licenses. The numbers have been made to correspond with the numbers of the autoists' city licenses.

Now these officials scan every automobile they come upon and in the event that it has no license, the owner is arrested.

The policy of the county officials is to compel owners of such machines to secure a $2 license, pay the 50-cent fee and, in most cases, pay the costs of a nominal prosecution before justice, for running without a license. It is stated that these costs amount to $10 or $12 as a rule.

Some automobilists charge that the county officials swoop down upon a chauffeur as he is en route to Clayton to get him a license and compel him to pay the costs, too.

Prosecuting Attorney Johnston says that any man who wishes to run his machine out to Clayton to secure a license can do so without fear of additional cost, by telephoning him his intention.

RICH RECLUSE DIES STARVING

Woman Worth $500,000 Found Dying in Seclusion, Practically Without Food.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Found lying on a pallet of straw in a large house in the heart of Flushing's most exclusive section, Mrs. Phoebe A. Berrian, reputed to be worth $500,000, came to her end, because, since the death of her husband nearly 20 years ago, she had led a life of seclusion.

She was deeply attached to her husband and tradition has it that every evening her husband's plate had been set at the head of the oaken table in the dining hall of the Berrian home.

When Mrs. Berrian was found dying, physicians and a nurse were summoned, but medical knowledge was unavailing.

The only food found in the house was a can of corn, a few apples and a loaf of bread.

RENEWS TIES AFTER 27 YEARS

Girl Who Ran Away From Home to Escape Convent Hears of Mother's Death.

LA PORTE, Ind., April 7.—Twenty-seven years ago Celia Reilly, now Mrs. William Marley, of Hartford City, this state, ran away from her home in Brooklyn, to escape being sent to a convent by her parents, and until yesterday had heard nothing of them.

By the aid of a Methodist Sunday-school teacher she planned to leave home. It was arranged that she should go to Muncie, Ind., with a trainload of orphan children who were being sent west. She worked in Muncie two years and then went to Hartford City and was taken into the home of Jesse Dowell, living there eighteen years as a member of the family.

During her absence she had written home only twice, but never received an answer. Yesterday her brother asking if his sister still resided in Muncie, the message was to tell Miss Reilly, now Mrs. Marley, that her mother had died.

TO ELECT SCHOOL TRUSTEE

Lively Township Campaign Because He Will Name Treasurer.

The election machinery of East St. Louis and Stites Township will be set in motion Saturday for the election of one school trustee.

Although the office is not in itself important, both the Independent Municipal party and the Citizens' party have made nominations. J. W. Wright is the candidate of the Citizens' party and Edward Maher of the Independent Municipal party.

Interest in the election is due to the fact that the trustee will appoint a school treasurer. If Wright is elected he will appoint John Nemes as treasurer. If Maher is elected he will appoint Louis Boismenu. Daniel Sullivan, who has been holding the treasurership, is not a candidate for reappointment. The aspirants for the treasurership and their friends are doing all the electioneering.

fact that the trustee will appoint a school treasurer. If Wright is elected he will appoint John Nemes as treasurer. If Maher is elected he will appoint Louis Boismenu. Daniel Sullivan, who has been holding the treasurership, is not a candidate for reappointment. The aspirants for the treasurership and their friends are doing all the electioneering.

Although the office is not in itself important, both the Independent Municipal party and the Citizens' party have made nominations. J. W. Wright is the candidate of the Citizens' party and Edward Maher of the Independent Municipal party.

Interest in the election is due to the fact that the trustee will appoint a school treasurer. If Wright is elected he will appoint John Nemes as treasurer. If Maher is elected he will appoint Louis Boismenu. Daniel Sullivan, who has been holding the treasurership, is not a candidate for reappointment. ## LAWYER DEFENDS OIL KING'S GIFT

General Counsel of Standard Monopoly Replies to Charges of Congressionalists.

HONESTLY EARNED, HE SAYS

S. C. T. Todd Declares That Oil Trust Is Independent of All Railroads.

NEW YORK, April 7.—At last John D. Rockefeller has spoken, or rather, S. C. T. Todd, general counsel of the Standard Oil monopoly, has issued a lengthy statement replying to the charge that the $100,000 oil king contributed to the Congressionalists.

Mr. Todd declares that the statement that Mr. Rockefeller made his money dishonestly "is false, is vile and being made by ministers in the pretended interests of morality is doubly vile."

The Standard Oil Co. is defended by the statement that the corporation does not own a share of stock in any railroad, does not control any railroad company and that since the enactment of the interstate commerce law has not received lower rates than other shippers by reason of rebates, arrangements, devices or plans of any character.

Mr. Todd declares that no specific charges have been made against the Standard Oil Co. or Mr. Rockefeller except by Rev. Washington Gladden of Columbus, O., and these, he says, relate to railroad rebates and favors that are supposed to have been extended to the monopoly.

Mr. Todd recites the sworn statements of Howard Pate, freight agent of the Standard Oil Co., in refutation of the charge that railway rebates were given the company. He says also that the Standard company often paid higher rates than its competitors.

In concluding, Mr. Todd says: "Those who contend that the Standard has been built by means of railway discrimination willfully shut their eyes to the real causes of the standard's success and are poor students of the problem of modern industrial combination. If the oil monopoly is a scandal, it is a scandal against John D. Rockefeller, it is proved to be false, it should make the public and particularly the religious public, more careful and charitable in its allegations."

"No doubt," he has been prejudiced against Mr. Rockefeller by sensational writers, whose articles, accompanied by portraits and caricatures, are intended to create the impression that Mr. Rockefeller was principal in the affairs relating to the organization of the gas and copper companies, although no fact showing such connection is stated.

The Standard Oil Co. has already denied that it had any connection or interest, directly or indirectly, in the organization of these corporations, and on the best authority the same denial is now made for John D. Rockefeller.

HAGGARD SCORES NOISE AND TRUSTS

Famous English Novelist Says America Is Land of Slamming Doors and High Prices.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

AMITY, Colo., April 7.—Trusts, internal noises and failure to pay royalties on American editions of such works as "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" are the chief faults of the United States, according to H. Rider Haggard, who is inspecting the Salvation Army here for the British government.

"Bacon in Colorado costs more than it does in England," said Haggard. "I see nothing but revolution and ruin in this country if the gigantic trusts are not curbed. Colonization, I believe, mitigates the problem of poverty in the cities."

"America is the land of loud noises. People slam doors and in every way see how much noise they can make. Trusts, especially, are a nuisance with their harsh, loud voices."

Haggard said he received no royalty on American editions of his books, many of which were given away with a pound of tea.

He added: "The poor people who live in your big cities and in Colorado are we consider in England a good wage, but the cost of living is so high here that they have no conveniences, comforts or money. The poorer classes of people in England do not make as much money as in this country, but they live better."

MODERN WOODMEN DELEGATES

Venice Convention Makes Selections for State Camp.

The Modern Woodmen of America of Madison County, in convention at Venice Wednesday, voted to ask that the third camp of the Woodmen meet every three years instead of every two years as at present. This proposition will be presented when the head camp meets at Milwaukee in June.

Delegates to the state camp at Deary, Ill., in May next were selected as follows: M. A. Link of Mitchell, D. Southard of Wanda, M. A. Clifford of Venice, Gottlieb Eschler of Highland.

Dr. T. E. Foley of Granite City and Frank Fisher, consul of Robin Hood Camp of Alton, were instructed for as delegates to the head camp and their names will be presented to the state camp.

The present Woodmen administration was informed and instructions were issued to delegates to vote for the re-election of the present officers.

PROHIBITION MEETING CALLED.

Party to Assist in Enforcing Sunday Closing Order.

Dr. George H. Gibson, chairman of the city central prohibition committee, has called a mass meeting of that party for Monday night, April 10, at the Compton Heights Christian Church, at which plans will be formulated to assist Excise Commissioner Mulvihill in enforcing the Sunday closing order.

Charles E. Stokes of Kansas City, state party chairman and editor of the party paper, will attend the meeting.

BURGLAR PREFERRED PIES TO DIAMONDS

Mrs. Ruhl's Cooking Such Strong Attraction That Uninvited Guest Cannot Pass.

A bold but unique burglar entered the home of John Ruhl, county clerk of St. Louis County, on Meramec street, in Clayton, Wednesday night, left everything of any value and took everything else. The man of the "silent tread" exploited the remotest corner of the pantry and took the salt and pepper cruets, the coffee pot and a bag of beans. Diamonds, watches and jewelry of all kinds were eschewed by the intruder.

The members of the family were not disturbed and everything the burglar did not take in the pantry he ate, including four pies.

An attempt was made to enter the residence of Senator B. L. Matthews, but without success. No clues have been obtained as to the identity of the burglar.

NEW COURT IS NOT NEEDED, SAYS FOLK

Governor Vetoes Bill to Establish Tribunal of Last Resort at Springfield.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 7.—The bill to establish a court of appeals at Springfield has been vetoed by Gov. Folk. The bill provided for a new court to include within its jurisdiction 20 counties now embraced in the territory of the St. Louis and Kansas City courts of appeals. It directed the governor to appoint three judges for four years, at the expiration of which time they should be elected for 12 years.

In giving his reason for vetoing the bill, Gov. Folk said that in his opinion another court would not relieve the crowded condition of the Supreme court and that it would add confusion to jurisprudence.

"The more the courts of last resort are multiplied," he said, "the more difficult it will be to ascertain what the law is."

CLIMBS TO ROOF TO ESCAPE FLAMES

Miss Pluff Is Rescued From Top of Kitchen of Burning Cahokia Home.

The beautiful home of Mrs. Margaret Pluff, one-half mile west of Cahokia, was destroyed by fire Tuesday. The fire burned so rapidly that Miss Pluff, who was upstairs when it was discovered, narrowly escaped death by burning. The fire started about midnight in the hall that could not be reached by the stairs and compelled to climb out of a rear window to the roof of the one-story kitchen, which place she was rescued.

Men from the nearby election polls got their interest in politics and formed a volunteer fire department. Their efforts were unsuccessful.

The Pluff homestead was one of the finest in the American Bottom. It was erected a few years ago under the direction of the late J. B. Pluff. Its value was about $200.

The origin of the fire is unknown.

BELASCO EXPOSES THEATER SECRETS

So Tells How Erlanger Threatened to Crush Him Unless He Got Half.

NEW YORK, April 7.—How the junior member of the firm of Klaw & Erlanger, who is to kick David Belasco, the playwright and manager, out of the theatrical business was told yesterday afternoon in Judge Fitzgerald's division of the Supreme court.

Incidentally, the comedian, David Warfield, figured in an important role before the court and he listened while Belasco told of Erlanger's regard for him being only as a Dutch comedian.

Samuel Untermyer, the famous corporation lawyer, represented Mr. Belasco in the dispute and Col. Ave Gruber represented Joseph Brooks and Klaw & Erlanger. The dispute is over the profits of "The Auctioneer," Belasco and Brooks' partnership dissolved and an accounting.

Belasco testified that he took hold of Warfield in 1890 and engaged Arthur Hahn to write a play for him, which, after numerous changes, was pronounced satisfactory. He went to Erlanger, he said, and asked for a route, but Erlanger told him he did not think much of Warfield except as a Dutch comedian. Belasco, however, said he was ready to stake his reputation on Warfield and asked for the theatrical syndicate's terms for a route.

Erlanger is declared to have held out for 50 per cent of the profits. "Whereupon," Belasco said, he told Erlanger that such a demand looked to him like blackmail. Then, Belasco said, Erlanger retorted: "Don't you dare say blackmail to me. I want half the profits and if you don't give me that, I'll kick you out of the theatrical business, and hereafter you'll get nothing."

Belasco said he took a week to think it over and then told Erlanger that he could see no escape from the proposition.

THE KNEISEL QUARTET TOMORROW NIGHT.
The Knesele Quartet is an old favorite with St. Louis music lovers, and its annual engagement under the auspices of the Union Musical Club at Y. M. C. A. Hall Saturday night of this week will be a noticeable event in the present musical season. The quartet is made up of Franz Knesele, first violin; Alwin Schroeder, violin; Louis Svecenki, viola, and J. Theodorowicz, second violin. The program will be as follows:

Brass quartet in E major, op. 96—Allegro non troppo.
Lento.
Allegro vivace.
Pietro Locatelli, sonata for violoncello (1693-1704).
(a) Allegro.
(b) Adagio.
(c) Menuetto con variazioni.
Adagio. Movement. From quartet in G major, op. 10. Debussy.
Tales of the Hunchback. From the opera in D major, op. 26. No. 1. Haydn.
Allegretto-Allegro.
Largo (cantabile e mesto).
Menuetto (Allegro).
Finale (Presto).

Billy V. Van, who has been cutting quite a swath in popular comedy of late, will come to the Grand Opera House next week in "The Errand Boy," a musical piece produced by the Van Brothers & Woods. The company is said to be lively in fun and well off in talent.

"The Factory Girl," by Charles E. Blaney, will come to the Grand Opera House next week. The piece is a character study, a melodrama, with the machinery and the delivery, the timely heroics, etc., and is full of appeal to those who relish that sort of thing on the stage. It is one of the big magnets of the Grand Opera House, and the company includes such able players as Len Hascall and Caroline May.

There are few stories that can compare with "Tribby" for unique situations and tense interest. Tuesday, April 11, the Odeon stock company will produce Du Maurier's famous play, "Tribby," was dramatized by Paul Potter and produced by A. M. Palmer, being one of his greatest successes. The part of Svengali was created by Wilton Lackaye. "Tribby" is a brilliant creation of the author's brain, and offers rare opportunity for the actress who can sink her individuality in an almost impossible character study. The atmosphere is distinctly of my life, the scenes being laid in the Latin Quarter, and dealing with the type of men for whom who make up that class of a big class known as "students." A special cast, drama and vocal artist will assist.

"Midnight in New York," a melodrama which shows, among other scenes, the New York subway and the Brooklyn bridge, will come to Crawford's Theater next Sunday for the week.

That capital, all-round comedian, Gustave Hartshorn, will have his benefit at the German Theater next Sunday night. Although he has been with the German stock company only this season, he has ingratiated himself with the public and his colleagues and may well look forward to a sold-out house. He will present that best of farces, "Der Jongleur" (or "The Circus Kid"), in which he has the telling part of a city drummer. The farce is to be equipped handsomely, and Mr. Hartshorn will intersperse several comedies, in the singing of which he is master.

TERRORIZED BY A WILD MAN

People of Chickasaw Nation, I. T., Alarmed by Strange Individual Who Escapes Capture.

LAWTON, O. T., April 7.—A man of hideous appearance, ragged garments, emaciated features and lacerated body has for two weeks been terrorizing citizens of the southern and southwestern portions of the Chickasaw nation, Indian Territory. He has assaulted women and children and injured men who sought to capture him. He invariably makes his escape and shortly turns up in some other section of the country.

Two deputy United States marshals and a posse of citizens recently came in touch with him in a heavy thicket, but he escaped. No one knows his name nor where he comes from.

FIRE CHARGED TO STRIKERS

Flames in Chicago Furniture Plant Follows an Attack by Pickets on Nonunion Men.

CHICAGO, April 7.—Following only a few hours a vicious attack by union pickets on two employees of the Art Bedstead Co., the plant of that concern has been ravaged by fire. The flames caused a loss estimated at $100,000.

For weeks a strike has been on at the plants and nonunion workmen frequently have been harassed by pickets. A few hours before the fire started a dozen men who had been watching the plant, attacked Peter and Probus, the two men who were employed by the concern. Both men were knocked down, kicked, beaten and were unconscious when the police arrived.

MURDER VICTIM IDENTIFIED

Dismembered Body Found in San Francisco Street That of Sicilian Peddler.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 7.—Henry Heinz, a tinsmith, has identified the dismembered body of the victim of the brutal murder now under investigation, as that of Harry Una, a Sicilian peddler. Una has been missing since Wednesday. On the other hand, two policemen who have examined the Italian quarter for years, believe the body is that of a Sicilian bootblack.

The head, arms and legs of the mutilated body were found by two boys in the bay near Meigs' wharf this afternoon. The feet and head were in a sack in which was a coat of the dead man.

CURES CATARRHAL DEAFNESS

One Week's Use of Hyomei Did More Than Six Months' Treatment by Specialists.

In the treatment of deafness which is often a result of catarrh, Hyomei acts almost immediately upon the inflamed membrane, and the hearing begins to return at once. A few days' treatment will bring relief, and in three or four weeks, according to the severity of the case, a cure will be accomplished.

Miss Meeks of Mattewan, N. Y., says: "Hyomei is truly wonderful. I have used it but a short time and see a great change in my condition. My hearing is improving rapidly, and I had no idea I would improve so rapidly in so short a time. My breath, which was so offensive to myself and others, has lost its bad odor entirely. I have spent a great deal of money with catarrh specialists, and can truly say that six months of their treatment is not equal to one month of Hyomei."

Wolf-Wilson and Judge & Dolph are selling Hyomei upon the unusual plan of agreeing to return the money if the medicine does not cure.

A complete outfit costs only $1.00, and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in a vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler will last a lifetime, and there is enough Hyomei for several weeks' treatment. Additional bottles of Hyomei can be procured for 50 cents. Compare this small expense with the fees charged by specialists, and then remember that if Hyomei does not cure Wolf-Wilson or Judge & Dolph will return your money.

SENATOR BURTON HERE TO SEE DYER?

Kansas Senator Declines to Say
Whether He Is to Interview
District Attorney.

RETRIAL IS SET FOR MAY.

Government Expects to Prove Politician Received Money From Get-Rich-Quick Concern.

Senator Burton of Kansas arrived in St. Louis from Topeka Friday, and is staying at the Southern Hotel.

A dispatch from Topeka states that Senator Burton is here to interview District Attorney Dyer relative to his case, which comes up for retrial at the May term of the United States District Court.

Senator Burton declines to discuss this report.

The United States Supreme Court reversed and remanded the Burton case, on the ground chiefly that the lower court erred in holding that, although the defendant received at Washington fees for his alleged work with the post-office department, in behalf of the Rialto Grain and Securities Co., the offense was within the jurisdiction of the St. Louis Federal Court.

District Attorney Dyer said that he had not seen Senator Burton nor had he any appointment with him. He had read in the newspapers that Senator Burton might secure a dismissal of his case if he resigned his seat in the national Congress.

"I can't see that such action on Senator Burton's part would affect the case at all," said the district attorney.

The government expects to be able to prove that Burton received money from the "get-rich-quick" concern while in St. Louis. The evidence developed that the Rialto Grain and Securities Co., by reason of Senator Burton's alleged influence, had been leniently dealt with at one time by the post-office authorities at Washington.

HALF A BLOCK OF FIRE FED BY HAY

Horse Knocked Down With Club and Blinded Before Being Led Out.

FORAGE SUPPLY IN RUINS.

No. 8 Truck Collided With Olive Street Car at Channing in Responding.

Fire which started at 9 o'clock Friday morning in the building of the Missouri Forage Supply Co., 426 to 434 South Theresa avenue, threatened its complete destruction.

The building, which occupied almost half a block, was filled with combustible feed-stuffs and burned with great rapidity. The first alarm was given by a second, but when the firemen arrived the flames were coming from all the windows and leaping high into the air and it was seen that there was slight chance of saving any part of the building.

The proximity of the tanks of the International Oil Co. and the yards of the Besig Lumber Co. made the danger of the fire spreading imminent and the firemen exerted themselves to confine the flames to the building in which they had originated. Streams were poured into all of the windows and half an hour after the fire started the firemen seemed to have brought it sufficiently under control to make its spread improbable.

The fire was discovered by a negro boy. Passing the large doorway of the building, he glanced in and saw a glow at the rear. He ran into the office and told President F. L. Robinson. He and Fred Hell, the porter, ran to the back of the building and found it all in flames.

The company keeps several teams in the building, but they were all out at the time except one horse.

This was the saddle horse of Mrs. Robinson. Before Mr. Robinson could get it out of the burning building, he had to knock it down with a club. He then threw a sack over its head and half raised it out.

Mr. Robinson and Christian Kerney, secretary of the company, then ran into the office and saved all the books that they could.

The fire gained an advantage at the outset because the engines which would have been quickly on the scene, including the twenty-first, whose home is on Manchester near Theresa, were on their way to another fire, and engines from greater distances had to respond. The alarm was sent from the twenty-one's house by Henry Rungger.

The building was completely burned out, with most of its contents. No. 8 truck, from Twentieth street and Washington avenue, collided with an Olive street car at Channing avenue, just before the fire. The car stopped in the middle of Channing avenue. Henry Roehr, the driver, tried to swing the horse team around the front of the car, but one of the shafts was driven into the side of the car and the three horses were thrown down. Capt. Joseph Boland and the other men on the truck went off but not injured. The horses were taken to the livery stable near by and the truckmen walked to the fire. The passengers on the car were badly frightened but not hurt.

Officers of the company estimate the loss at $200 on the contents and $200 on the building.

F. C. WHITNEY IS VISITING ST. LOUIS

Noted Theatrical Producer Is Here From New York to See
Madame Schumann-Heink.

Fred C. Whitney, one of the noted New York theatrical producers, is a visitor in St. Louis.

Mr. Whitney is here to consult with Mme. Schumann-Heink concerning the comic opera in which she is to appear under his management next season, and also to look after matters in relation to the coming of "Piff, Paff, Pouf," another of his productions, to the Olympic Theater April 24.

Mr. Whitney's contract with Schumann-Heink is regarded as one of the luckiest strokes made by an original manager within recent years. The Madame is a great magnet, and her season's tour in "Love's Lottery" will return big profits to Whitney.

Josef Hofmann and Fritz Kreisler are established favorites with the concert goers of this city, and the announcement that they are to be heard in a joint recital at popular prices at the Odeon next Monday night interests new and old patrons of the musical season. Their recent appearances here with the Symphony Orchestra accorded ovations to each.

Hofmann is free from all the frigidities of fobbe which some musicians affect, and is something of a straightforward and wholesome about this young artist which makes itself felt at once. He is not addicted to long hair or to any other personal peculiarities. He is fond of out of door sports, and his hands are so thick and strong that it is easy to believe he spends much time at a mechanic's bench, which is said to be the case. Hofmann's powers have broadened and continue to ripen with his advance in years. He is not addicted to sentimentality. His playing is fresh and clean, and the tone qualities in softer passages are excellent.

Regarding Kreisler, no word less strong than wonderful would do justice to his performance at the recent Symphony Concert. All who have heard Kreisler know that before every thing else, he is an artist. The expounding of the best violin music and conscientious interpretation advances no personal pretension beyond that which cannot be avoided. His quiet manner, his care for the text he has to expound, etc., distinguish him from many contemporaries.

The headlines on the Columbia's bill for the week beginning Monday afternoon will be John C. Rice and Sally Cohen, the noted comedy stars. They will present a farce entitled "Our Honeymoon." Another leading feature will be the Bedouin A. eight athletes who are said to be trained in ground and lofty tumbling. Included in the troupe is Prince Muley Ali, who is considered the world's champion tumbler. Other prominent numbers are George B. Snyder and Harry Kelly, a monologist who sings comic songs of the day; John and Bertha Fleeson and dances, and the Four Marvelles, eccentrics in grotesque acrobatic. Emerson and Emma, in their laughable sketch, "Don't Notice It," Royce and French, in an original comedy, singing and dancing act called "The Tandom," Harry Brown, the singing cartoonist; Lulu Tins, a subterfuge with singing songs, and the kinodrome complete the program.

May Abandon St. Nicholas Hotel.
It has not been definitely decided whether a new hotel or an office building will be made of the St. Nicholas Hotel, which will be closed May 8 for alterations. Former Mayor M. A. S. of St. Louis, who heads the syndicate who purchased the hotel, states that the hotel may be converted into an office building.

PAINFUL PERIODS

Suggestions How to Find Relief from Such Suffering.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it does not seem to be the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. If it is painful or irregular something is wrong which should be set right or it will lead to a serious derangement of the whole female organism.

More than fifty thousand women have testified in grateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes painful and irregular menstruation. It provides a safe and sure way of escape from distressing and dangerous weaknesses and diseases.

The two following letters tell so convincingly what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do for women, they cannot fail to bring hope to thousands of sufferers.

Miss Nellie Holmes of 540 N. Davidson Street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

Your medicine is indeed an ideal medicine for women. I suffered miserably for years with painful periods, headaches, and bearing-down pains. I consulted two different physicians but failed to get any relief. A friend from the East advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and no longer suffer as I did before. My periods are natural, every ache and pain is gone, and my general health is much improved. I advise all women who suffer to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Mrs. Tillie Hart, of Lacrosse, N. D., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I might have been spared many months of suffering and pain had I only known of the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound sooner; for I have tried so many remedies without help."

"I dreaded the approach of my menstrual period every month, as it meant so much pain and suffering for me, but after I had used the Compound two months I became regular and natural and am now perfectly well and free from pain at my monthly periods. I am very grateful for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound rests upon the well-earned gratitude of American women.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, leucorrhea, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating, (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her and she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass.

Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills.

Our Spring Opening

We have just received from our Woolen Mills and Clothing Factories a new Spring Stock of MEN'S, YOUTHS' AND CHILDREN'S CLOTHING, consisting of all the best and most popular fabrics, patterns and makes, which we shall put on sale at our Retail Store, 826 N. Broadway, Saturday, April 8th, at prices that will astonish all good judges of clothing.

As we make the cloth and also the clothing we are able to sell it, and make a profit, for less than our competitors pay for their goods.

Quality and Style—Two features of first importance here. Making, as we do, in our own mills and shops, about two million dollars of clothing annually for our retail and wholesale departments, we can take no chances as to quality and style. In our cloth department every new fabric is studied, tested, scoured, sponged and thoroughly examined by experts before it goes to the manufacturer. We put an iron-clad guarantee on every garment—hence all this caution.

BOY CUT BY HARVESTER.*Edwardville Youth Thrown in Front of Knives.

Henry Owendorf, a son of Benjamin Owendorf, is at his home on the Barnack farm, south of Edwardville, in a serious condition, from injuries suffered Thursday when the team he was driving to a corn harvesting machine ran away.

The boy was taking the machine from one farm to another, when the horses became frightened and ran away. He was thrown from his seat and fell in front of the knives. One of his legs was slashed in a dozen places and his scalp was severely injured.

MRS. BEAN OUT OF WORKHOUSE*Judge Moore Revokes Woman's Sentence in Police Court.

Mrs. Katherine Bean was released from the workhouse at 10 o'clock Friday morning, her sentence of a fine of $100 on a charge of peddling without a license, imposed in the City Hall Police Court March 17, having been revoked by Judge Moore.

In the Court of Criminal Correction Thursday afternoon.

The woman was arrested by Detectives Flynn and Gaffney on March 18, after having sold a skirt to Ida Grinick of 827 Morgan street. According to the testimony of Detective Flynn, she confessed to him that she had stolen the skirt from a department store, but this testimony was ruled out by Judge Moore in the Court of Criminal Correction, on the ground that it had no bearing on the charge of peddling without a license, under which the woman was then being tried.

To Hunt Horse Thieves.

The Gumbo Protective Association, composed of farmers of the Gumbo neighborhood in the western part of St. Louis County, who object to having their horses stolen, has filed application with the St. Louis County Circuit Court for a protective decree of incorporation. The association will appoint a thief catcher in each school district and pay him $50 for the return of a stolen horse, $250 reward for the conviction of a horse thief or $25 a day for a limited time during an unsuccessful chase, and then pay the man who lost the horse half its value. Hides are classed as of equal importance with horses.

Water Christened The Crew; Good Enough For Ship

Invest $4 in Crystal Liquid From the City Mains, Not in Beer or Champagne, Says Water Commissioner, and He'll Furnish Decorated Cut-Glass Bottles.

Ben C. Adkins, water commissioner of St. Louis, protests against the proposition to use either champagne or beer in christening the new cruiser St. Louis.

He became stirred up beyond the powers of a coxswain to settle as soon as he saw in the Post-Dispatch Thursday afternoon that St. Louis brewers were seriously considering a beer christening. "Neither champagne nor beer for that christening, if I can prevent it!" he declared defiantly. "What! With Mississippi mud mastered, and water of crystal clearness pouring in unlimited quantities through the city's hydrants, shall there be no fame for the feat?"

He tore out a bunch of hair, set it carefully on his desk in front of him, contemplated it severely for a moment, and then decided upon a course of action.

He would enlist the Woman's Christian Temperance Union on his side and put to rout the advocates of both beer and champagne.

He telephoned for half a dozen Woman's Temperance Union leaders, but found they were all out of the city. It was discouraging; but he reached the decision that they were with him, anyhow, in the proposition to christen the vessel with water.

"I am quite sure that St. Louis city water would be the proper christening fluid," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter Friday. "If water was good enough to christen the officers and men who will man the ship, it is good enough for the ship itself."

"St. Louis water is good and wholesome and popular. Of course, it does not foam, and has no effervescent properties; but what of that?"

Overthrow Champagne Custom.
"Champagne advocates say it is the custom to christen with champagne. But it was the custom to have muddy water in St. Louis. One custom can be overthrown as readily as another."

"The beer advocates say beer is more popular, and more generally used, in St. Louis than is champagne. But tell me, will anybody dispute that water-works water is more popular and more generally used than either of them?"

"Beer advocates say further that champagne leaves a headache. Personal experience related by friends to me, in the solemn moments of the day after, convince me that beer sometimes does the same thing. But no one can truthfully say that water—the kind of water we have in St. Louis—ever gives a headache."

"One beer advocate suggests $4 worth of beer. If $4 is the amount to be expended for the christening fluid, I will agree to sell them enough for that price to float the ship."

"I will further agree to ornament the bottle or whatever is to be used to hold the christening fluid, as handsomely as 'Gusset' Busch can ornament a bottle of beer. I would provide a handsome cut-glass bottle and trim it with silver; and I would have skilled engravers trace beautiful pictures on that silver—pictures that would be typical of St. Louis. And if they want Exposition ribbons, I'll furnish them; and Valled Froebel ribbons, also, for that matter."

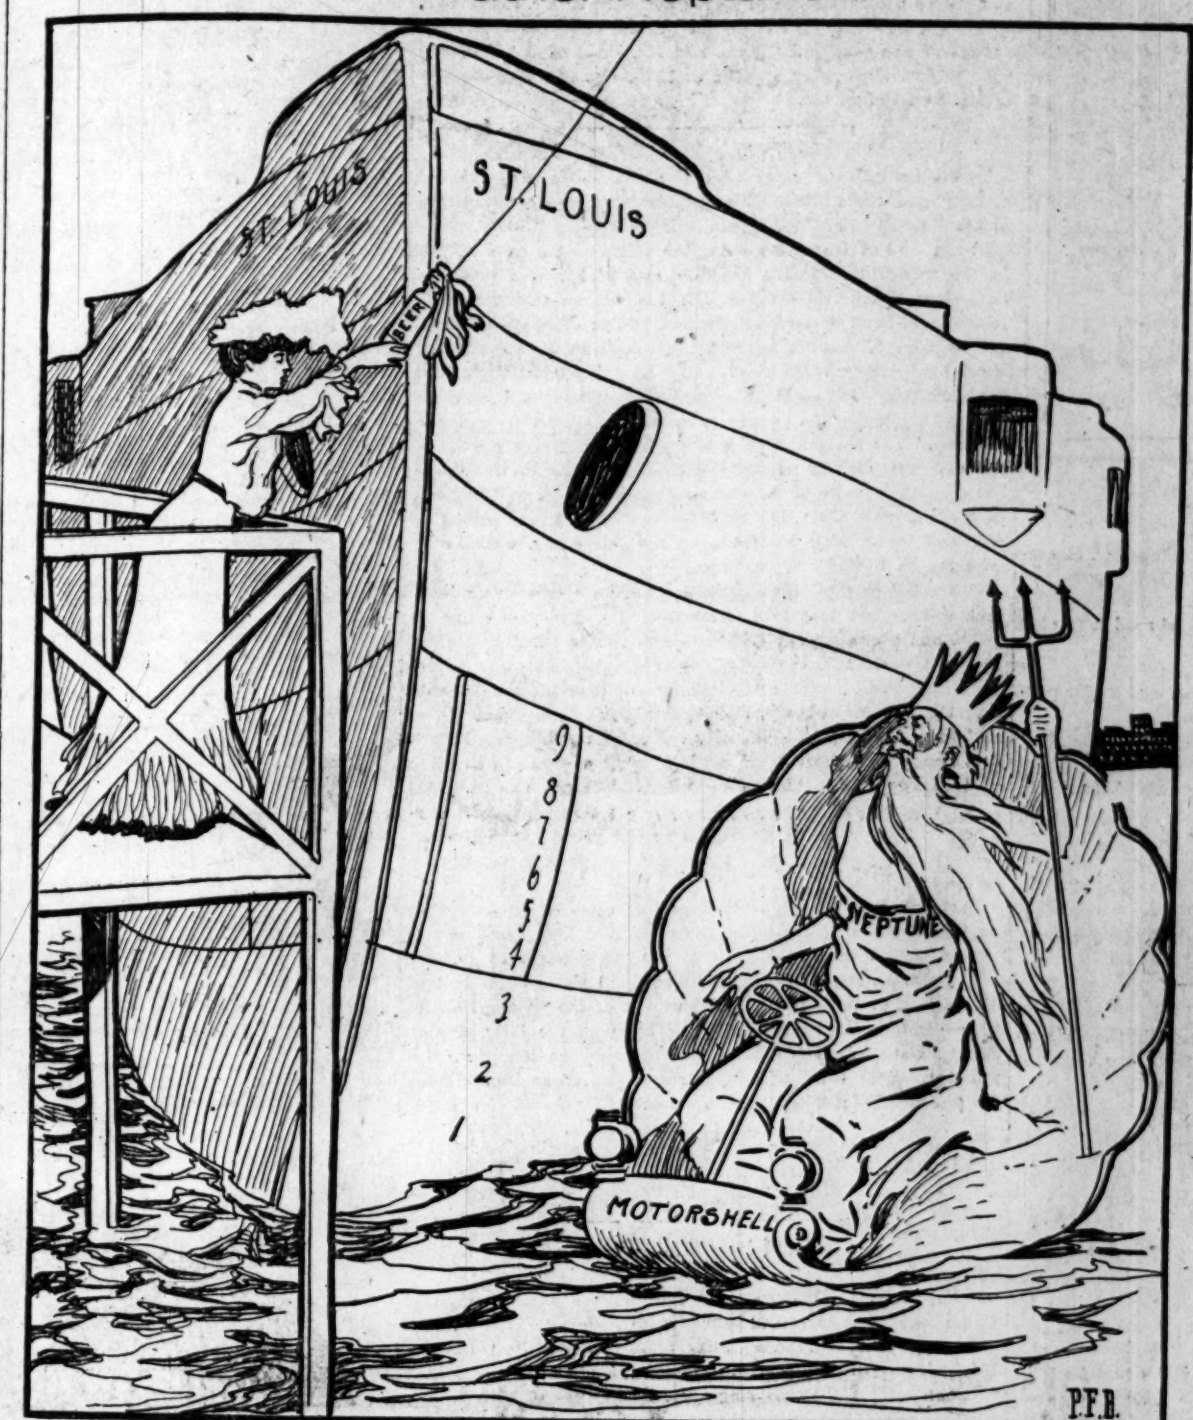

"There is not a doubt on earth that St. Louis city water is the thing with which to christen the cruiser 'St. Louis.'"

"LEADING CITIZEN" A BURGLAR

Prominent Church Member and Reformer Confesses Guilt.

WATERLOO, N. Y., April 7.—Morgan W. Leboyteaux, one of the leading citizens of Romulus, a member of the first Presbyterian Church of this place and president of the Vigilance Society of the towns of Varick and Romulus, was arrested today at home in Romulus. He is charged with burglary in entering the store of Clinton A. Warner, of Romulus, on the night of March 2. Warner and Leboyteaux are cousins. It is alleged that he confessed to robbing the safe on several occasions.

"THE SIGHT OF BEER AFFORDS ME CHEER" --Father Neptune.

Says Neptune, daddy of the ocean. Who in the ocean makes his home. From which, whenever he takes a notion, He petulantly blows the foam. 'I'm getting to be a regular boozier! They're christening another cruiser!'

'Great guns! Just think, in recent years How much intoxicants I've swallowed! I've swum in champagne to the ears; In vinous waves I've fairly wallowed! Yes, every time I take a plunge, I soak the stuff up like a sponge.'

'But now St. Louis—blessed saint!—Has come to crack a 'bot. Ki yit! I'm glad to see the beverage aint! The same old, same old 'extra dry.' Hooryay! He brings my heart to cheer, A bottle of his finest beer!'

"BLACK JACK'S" LAST PAL IS ROUNDED UP

Ed Franks Only Unapprehended Member of Famous Train-Robbing Crowd Captured.

TRINIDAD, Colo., April 7.—After being hunted six years, Edward Franks, aliasing member of "Black Jack" Ketchum's Bob McManus, said to be the last surviving member of the notorious band of train robbers that terrorized New Mexico and southern Colorado for many years, was placed in the county jail at Trinidad today. He was arrested 30 miles south of Trinidad by George Tisworth and William Thatcher, deputy sheriffs.

Franks lived alone in a desolate canon, difficult of approach. After locating Franks' house, the officers were compelled to make a detour, crawling much of the distance, as the place commanded a view of the open country for miles around. Franks had a six-shooter close at hand, but, being surprised, made no fight. He will be tried at Clayton, N. M., on a charge of train robbery, a capital offense in that territory.

After "Black Jack's" gang held up the Colorado & Southern train in July, 1898, near Folsom, N. M., securing a large sum of money, the robbers separated. Ed Farr, then sheriff of Huachuca County, with a posse, surrounded Peaches, Sam Ketchum, a brother of "Black Jack," and a man named McGinnies, near Folsom. A fierce fight ensued. Sheriff Farr was killed and two other members of the posse wounded. Sam Ketchum also was killed and McGinnies wounded. McGinnies was captured a few days later, and is now serving a life sentence.

One month after the Cimarron battle, "Black Jack" alone attempted to hold up the Colorado & Southern passenger train. He was wounded by Conductor Frank Harrington, captured, convicted of train robbery and hanged.

TUBERCULOSIS VALID DEFENSE.

Seattle Judge Says Marriage Engagement Is Not Binding.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 7.—No man should be mulcted in damages who breaks a promise he has made to marry a woman who, he afterward learns, is afflicted with tuberculosis.

This was the opinion given by Superior Judge Albertson in passing upon motion to strike out certain questions propounded in the suit of Rosena E. Grover against Mayor Zook of Ballard, in which the young woman seeks to recover from him $25,000 damages for breach of promise.

The court declared the state had the right to prevent any marriage which would be dangerous to its welfare.

Fined for Disobeying Police.

Daniel Naughton of 1306 OsFallon street was fined $25 in the Dayton Street Court Friday for refusing to obey police orders at the polling place of the eighth precinct of the third ward, at 130 North Eleventh street, Tuesday afternoon. It was shown that he persisted in lingering about the door after being ordered away. Another case against Naughton for disturbing the peace was continued to Saturday morning.

TILLES ON STAND IN RAILWAYS SUIT

Makes General Denial of Many Statements Made by James Brown of Brown Bros.

The hearing of the suit of Cella, Adler & Tilles against Brown Brothers of New York, the United Railways and Transit companies and the National Bank of Commerce was resumed before United States Commissioner Babbitt in the Federal building, Friday morning.

C. A. Tilles was again placed on the stand, and was cross-examined and gave indirect testimony on certain points involved in Thursday's hearing.

The forenoon Friday was practically consumed by the efforts of Judge Henry A. Priest, counsel for the defendants, to secure from the witness an admission that his firm knew of the syndicate agreement giving Brown Brothers a two-year's control of the management of the United Railways and Transit companies before they applied to be admitted to the syndicate. The witness, however, did not make such an admission, and at the conclusion of his testimony the hearing was adjourned to 2 o'clock.

Thursday afternoon Capt. Tilles was on the witness stand most of the afternoon. His testimony was a denial of incidents related by James Brown of Brown Bros., the New York bankers handling the merger. Capt. Tilles denied directly that he had been shown a memorandum by Mr. Brown in which it was stated that that firm was to have 20 per cent commission for handling the deal.

The information concerning the commission was first learned, according to the testimony, when Mr. Tilles and Mr. Cella called at the National Bank of Commerce to deposit a check for $5 per cent of the $50,000 stock allotted them. Then they refused to sign.

Capt. Tilles also described a conversation in which Mr. Brown told him and his associates that "they would be cared for." Also of a telegram which Festus J. Wade, is alleged to have sent Brown Bros. Later, after he had learned of the efforts to "squeeze out" the St. Louis stockholders, he testified that Mr. Wade threatened to withdraw his support, unless local stockholders were allowed to testify. Mr. Wade is expected to testify on this point, but he is now in New York.

St. Louis has more Post-Dispatch readers every day than it has homes.

Biggest West of the Mississippi.

There have been 11 earthquake shocks recently at Mussoorie, but everything is steady in Missouri.

Let everybody say ditto to the undeniable things Mr. Roosevelt is saying from the rear platform.

A century hence some President speeding westward may stop to recommend a statue to Theodore Roosevelt.

Chicago may have voted for large families as well as for public ownership. The new mayor has 10 children.

Since he is President, Secretary of War and Secretary of State, all at the same time, will not our huge friend, Mr. Taft, be sure to consider himself of presidential size in 1908?

Work on the Panama Canal will be delayed again; this time because of an oversight in drafting a bill in Congress. Interest, ignorance, malice, incompetence—all conspire to delay or defeat the enterprise which nine-tenths of the American people most eagerly desire.

THE REVOLT.

It may amuse our conservative friends to explain the Chicago election, as the New York Times does, on the theory that "in this great city of the West a large portion of the electorate is in a semi-wild state so far as economic theory and practice are concerned." But this kind of an explanation is accepted by nobody except the people whose eyes should be opened to the real significance of it all. Judge Dunne's election was only an incident in a widespread revolt against corruption control of government and corruption abuse of public necessities. It is a revolt that is spreading with amazing rapidity.

In Wisconsin, La Follette has been battling against railroad domination of the state. The people have sustained him by unprecedented majorities and the Legislature has elected him to the United States Senate.

In Kansas, the people are struggling with the Standard Oil monopoly. The Legislature has voted to establish a state refinery. The federal commissioner of corporations is making an investigation of the Standard Oil Co. in Kansas and half a dozen states have taken repressive measures against the trust.

Folk in Missouri represents first of all the public uprising against the debauching of government by the agents of corporations.

In Michigan a movement is under way to compel the Legislature to submit an amendment to the state constitution permitting municipal ownership and operation of street railway lines.

In New York the Legislature has undertaken an investigation of the gas monopoly of the metropolis. In spite of the threats of Wall street, a tax has been imposed on stock transfers. The protests of the big mortgage and realty companies have been disregarded by the imposition of a tax of one and one-half percent on mortgages in place of the regular tax that was evaded by systematic perjury. The City of New York is engaging in the ownership and operation of ferries and the municipality will escape some of the exactions of the trust by doing its own public lighting.

President Roosevelt's policy of federal regulation of rates has been received with almost hysterical approval in many of the western and southern states, while the question of establishing public slaughter houses has been seriously proposed as a counter move against the Beef Trust. There is hardly a city of any size in the Union which is not considering a project of one kind or another for extending public control over general utilities. There is hardly a state in which there are not signs of a revolt against the exactions of organized capital in one form or another.

All these things are symptoms of a condition of public feeling that the representatives of organized capital are trying to ignore.

The southern politicians who forced the 1850 compromise and Kansas-Nebraska bill could not see that they had doomed the very institution they were trying to strengthen.

The Wall street bankers who organized the raid on the gold reserve could not see that they were making a free silver campaign inevitable in 1906.

The men who control the public service corporations of the United States are blind and deaf to the fact that they are promoting a movement toward state socialism which may irrevocably change the whole character of republican government.

The American people have been patient and long suffering, but they are tired of being exploited. They are tired of having their servants corrupted and their government debauched. They are tired of seeing the interests of the people forever sacrificed to the interests of organized capital. There may not be much "economic theory and practice" about the remedies they propose, but an outraged public sentiment is not likely to concern itself with political economy. It strikes with the first weapon on which it can lay its hands, and thinks very little about the ultimate consequences to anybody.

Recently a book was published in Germany, discussing the question whether or not a woman is a human being. It has had a wide vogue and has been taken seriously. The page in the coming Sunday Post-Dispatch, in which a St. Louis woman makes new and startling revelations about Mormonism, shows that the modern woman has much more to do in order to gain the standing in civilization to which she is entitled. Brutes in human form are working, in every country, to degrade women. Other articles that will interest women especially, in this Magazine issue, are the romance of a young girl who married a bandit and is succeeding in reforming him; the story of a young woman in St. Louis who has undertaken one of the most dangerous tasks that can be imagined; the article telling how to get rid of a widespread and disagreeable American trait, and articles on household economy, etc. St. Louis people will be startled at the exposure of an illegal and vicious business, carried on here and numbering thousands of victims. It is the worst get-rich-quick scheme known, catching the most helpless in its snares. Of scientific and religious interest is an article telling of a new discovery of light that emanates from the human body. What has been supposed miraculous appears to be entirely natural. These and many other informing and interesting articles make an issue that has never been surpassed in novelty and readability.

Mr. S. C. T. Dodd has joined Mr. H. H. Rogers in proclaiming the virtues of that good and pious man, Mr. John D. Rockefeller. It must be a source of much holy consolation to Mr. Rockefeller to know that whatever the Congregational ministers think, Mr. Rogers of the Standard Oil Co. and Mr. Dodd of the Standard Oil Co., too, thoroughly approve of the company's methods and of Mr. Rockefeller, too.

UNWARRANTED POLICE THEORIES.

Two extraordinary cases of police work—one of pernicious activity and the other of inexcusable inaction—were reported in the Post-Dispatch Wednesday.

In the case of Katherine Bean, the police sent a poor woman to the workhouse for the innocent sale of her own property. Detectives Flynn and Gaffney saw the woman selling a skirt to a second-hand dealer and arrested her on suspicion of theft. The woman refused to explain the sale because she did not want her poverty exposed. Finding no evidence of theft they prosecuted her on a charge of peddling without a license although they had not a particle of evidence that the woman was peddling. The woman, who was released by Judge Moore on the exposure of the wrong, spent three weeks in the workhouse solely because of the professional desire of two detectives to make a case. The fact that the woman had once been convicted of wrongdoing was taken by the police as a warrant for trumping up a charge against her.

If a small part of this eagerness to make a case on an innocent woman had prompted the police to make some effort to arrest and prosecute the criminals who robbed Charles Hoefner nearly a week ago, the record of the department would have been improved. An investigation by the Post-Dispatch showed that the Hoefner robbery, although reported to the police, was shelved without effort to identify and catch the thieves. In this case theory was substituted for intelligent work as in the case of the poor woman, but with wholly different results. The crime was neglected and the innocent act was penalized. Perhaps, as little mention was made in the press of the Hoefner robbery, the police thought there was no glory to be won by activity.

President Stewart might well address some of his energy to an investigation of what the police do that they ought not to do, and what they neglect to do that they ought to do. He might also expend some of his eloquence in giving them an idea of the law, of the rights of citizens and of the practical duties of the police. He might enlighten them on the folly of substituting suspicions for facts and theories for inquiries. He might convince them that "newspaper police" are not eligible for promotion under the merit system.

It must be a great comfort to the repeatedly disappointed people of Oklahoma to hear the President predicting their early statehood.

WHICH?

Beer or champagne to christen the new cruiser St. Louis next month—which shall it be? Each beverage has its champions. Those who cling to tradition favor the bubbles; those who believe in something representative of one of the city's greatest industries are urging the froth. Here are some of the opposing facts concerning the two beverages:

- |   |                                       |
|---|---------------------------------------|
| 1. Champagne costs $4 a quart.           | 1. Beer costs 20 cents a quart.       |
| 2. Champagne is typical of high life.     | 2. Beer is the drink of the "people." |
| 3. Champagne is the drink of the uncouth. | 3. Beer is anybody's for 5 cents.     |
| 4. Champagne is aristocratic.             | 4. Beer is democratic.                |

There is the difference. Now, which shall it be? "Beer is typical of St. Louis," says one. "Buy $4 worth of beer," says another, "and flood the ship." "Beer is too good to waste," says a third. "But the champagne means nothing," interposes a fourth; "it is only used for custom's sake."

"There is nothing nautical about champagne," says another. "As for beer, there is an ocean of it in St. Louis; it is served in 'schooners.' Besides, we ship it and are always on deck when an order comes."

SMITH.
Miss Gladys Bryant Smith has been chosen by Mayor Wells to christen the cruiser St. Louis at Philadelphia, May 6.

Smith? Smith?
It is a name to conjure with!
A name of force and fire and pith.
Than which no other name is better.
That name deserves a monolith,
Inscribed with many a glowing letter,
To blazon forth the glories of
The name of Smith—a name we love;
A name, good sirrah, far above
Full many a nomen
Of man and woman.
Whose name, were truth known, is a myth.

Who has no kith
By name of Smith?
Though some this name get giddy with,
And say, in manner quite unwary,
"It is too plain and ordinary."
They well might pause, for even Jones
The widespread Smith influence owns;
And Brown is forced to say that Smith
Is a power that must be reckoned with;
And we, you bet, are not the loser
Since one who bears that honored name
("Twice Adam's"; yes, that very name)
Has reached another round of fame
By being chosen—fair enthusiast—
To christen our St. Louis cruiser.

FACTS ABOUT JAPAN.

By Burton Holmes.
Japan has nearly 50,000,000 people, more than half as many as the United States.
The word "Mikado" signifies something like "The Sacred Gate" or "The Sublime Porte."
The name of the reigning Mikado is Mutso Hito.
The name of the Empress is O Haru-spring.
The name of the Crown Prince is Yoshi
Hito.
Sixteen cents a day is now good pay for unskilled labor in Japan. Ten years ago it was 6 cents.
Japan has very few millionaires and practically no multi-millionaires.
Tokio is a hundred years older than St.
Petersburg.
The lovely Japanese cherry trees produce
no cherries.
On the Japanese stage male actors play
the female roles.
There is only one Japanese actress—Mme.
Sada Yacco.
Danjuro, the great Japanese tragedian,
is also the most skillful dancer of Japan.
Japanese dead are buried in a squatting posture, chin upon knees.
More than 10,000 pilgrims, male and female, ascend Fujiyama every year.
Fujiyama is 12,385 feet high, a thousand feet for every month, plus one foot for every day in the year.
The Japanese people, even the poor, travel much in Japan.
Modern Japanese coins and bank notes bear legends in English as well as in Japanese.
Semi-nudity is common in rural Japan, and therefore it is respectable and healthful.
The average Japanese is better bathed than the average Britisher.
Wrinkles are poetically termed by the Japanese "waves of old age."
It is quite proper, even complimentary, to ask a lady's age in Japan.
The Japanese "Hello" at the telephone is "Moshi moshi" or "Ano ne" with the accent on the "nay."
The Japanese farewell, "Sayonara," means something like "If it must be so,"
or "If we must part thus, so be it."
Kissing and shaking hands are rarely practiced in Japan.
Japanese mothers do not kiss their children, though they may press the lips to the forehead or cheek of a very young baby.
Sewing on buttons is not a wifely duty in Japan—there are no buttons.

NEW YORK NEWSPAPER VIEWS

This Morning's Comments on Today's News by the Leading Metro- politan Journals.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, April 7.—The state department has made public acknowledgment of its indebtedness to the Kaiser for suggesting that the powers induce Russia and Japan to respect the neutrality of China.
Commenting on this fact the World says:
"Administrative entity" is a fine phrase in itself. It is something that any administration might well be proud to have invented. If Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hay must share credit for it with the Kaiser they can flatter themselves that he thought their likeness would look better than his own on this piece of diplomatic coinage.
Still the national pride suffers a little to have it known that we passed off goods
"made in Germany" under a Washington trademark.
"Every young married woman should know how to make bread," says a writer on economics. Yes, and every young man should know how to furnish dough.—The American.

The Sun thinks Chicago can turn from trivialities of municipal ownership to the study of more serious matters since Mr.
Harian has been "deposited in a cavity," as our old friend, Dr. William Everett, would say. Chief of the serious matters cited is the women's clubs' declarations on
"the destruction of the home." Mrs. J. H.
Burlingame lays it to the fathers who "use a rule neglect the training of their children."

Mrs. Margaret Forweil puts the blame on women's clubs, but adds "the sooner we get away from the hard and fast idea of home the better for the world."
"Exactly," says the Sun, "the club is the club woman's home; and the sooner people stop wasting time on schemes to make home attractive the better for culture and the world."

A LITTLE LESSON IN ELECTRICITY

How the Current Generated at Niagara Is Sent to Distant Places and Transformed for Daily Use in Factory and Home.

From Harper's Weekly.
The dynamo in operation at Niagara do not differ in principle from those in the street car powerhouse, except in the fact that they are not supplied with commu-tators. These dynamoes are of enormous size.
Those already in operation generate 5000 horse-power; others in process of construction will develop 10,000. The generator which produces this enormous current is an alternating current of electricity of 2200 volts. This current represents, it has been said, raw material which is to be variously transformed as it is supplied to different uses. To factories near at hand, the current of 2200 volts is supplied unchanged; but for more distant consumption it is raised to 10,000 volts; and that portion which is sent away to the factories of Buffalo and other equally distant places is raised to 23,000 volts.
The transformation from a relatively low voltage to the high one is effected by means of what is called a step-up transformer. This is an apparatus which brings into play a principle of electrical induction not very different from that which was responsible for the generation of the current in the dynamo. The principle of the transformer is that electricity in the familiar laboratory apparatus known as the Ruhmkorff coil. The transformer consists essentially of a primary coil of relatively large wire, surrounded by, but insulated from, a secondary coil of relatively fine wire. When the interrupted current is sent through the primary coil of such an apparatus, an induced counter-current is generated in the secondary coil. Of course there is no gain in the actual quantity of electricity, but the voltage of the current generated in the finer wire is greatly increased. For example, as we have seen,

A LAST LOOK AROUND.

They are saying of Hans Christian Andersen that "he never grew up." Some people grow up too much.

Berlin has a sewage farm which last year netted the city $81,000 profit. The Mississippi gets all ours, and surely it doesn't need it.

Up to date about $18,000 has been raised in America for the relief of Japanese sick and wounded. But the Russians need this aid most.

The suburbanites who subscribed good money and gave good land to build stations for the Missouri Pacific are now wondering why they did it.

About 800 Japanese are coming to this country each year. It is supposed that one effect of the war will be to largely increase the number.

If you want to sell your coat or your skirt, take the policeman on the beat into your confidence. Otherwise you may spend a few weeks in the workhouse.

Rev. Washington Gladden says that love should rule in the building of a fortune, as well as in its distribution. These ministers are often so old-fashioned.

Deaths from the plague in India now average 3,000 a week. One of the strange things about this disease is that it breaks out with renewed virulence in cold weather.

Coney Island has got "Creation" and a number of other Pike features. St. Louis needs a first-class amusement resort. It would help the million population crusade.

A Carnegie iron mill at Greenville, Pa., has started up, after being shut down 15 months. Quite a nice, long spell for the Carnegie workers to make use of the Carnegie library.

J. C. Phelps Stokes, a blue-blooded Massachusetts millionaire, is to marry a poor Jewess, to whom he was attracted by "the beauty of her intellect." Polish up your intellects, girls.

We build with ashes now. A big pile of them, ready to be mixed with cement, broke down the eleventh floor of a big apartment house in course of erection in New York. No one was killed, but there was a great dust.

If the Transit company should instruct the Olive street conductors to make no stops between Broadway and Sixth street, it would be on a par with the action of the Missouri Pacific in shutting off service between Tower Grove and Kirkwood. Why impair the city's transportation service
instead of improving it?

Service.

If I could only serve him,
How sweet this life would be!
Last night I dreamed my darling
Alive—returned to me.

I brought him from the cupboard
The things he liked to eat;
The little piece of honey,
The rye bread and the meat.

I sang the song he asked for
The night he went away.
How was it when I loved him,
I could have said him nay?

I took the time to please him,
With hand upon his brow,
Amid the awful leisure
There was no hurry now.

How strange I once denied him
What took so little while!
A kiss would seem so simple,
Only because they live.

With pleasant sweet looks of wonder
He took what I could give;
Such words as we deny them
Only because they live.

The pale light of the morning
Shone in upon the wall;
Come back to me, my darling,
And I will give you all!

Anna Thompson.

BRAINY MAN IS A PREY TO THE SILLY WOMAN?

Such Is the Popular Belief Though
There Is a Wide Difference of Opinion as To the Correctness of the Theory.

WOMEN EMPHATICALLY
REFUTE THE CHARGE.

Three of Them Give Their Opinions and State Positively That Their Brilliant Representatives
Do Not Marry Stupid Men.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and
New York World.

NEW YORK, April 7.—Isn't it a shame
All the many men are snatched up by the womanish women. All the big, strong chaps, all the fellows with colossal minds, mankind sensible and wise, all are easy prey to pretty, pretty womanhood.

It matters not if their head be vacuous within so long as the fact be hid by glorious, braute attractions and a pretty face, with its dimpled chin and sparkling eyes. A pretty girl and a silly girl with light heart and head is the one who brings down the big game. At least that's what all girls are saying. It is the "plain" girls who are kicking?

The brilliant women won't make properly, either. It is contended. The girl of high intellectual attainments sets the man of her choice in the reshuffle of her own thoughts, no matter how common-place and stupid he be.

Mrs. Sutro's Views.

"Do brilliant men marry the butterflies and brilliant women the fat-heads?
Sometimes, but not as a rule," says Mrs.
Theodore Sutro.

"Why do they do it? The reason is true but true love is blind.

"Sometimes it isn't, though. I know the case of a man—we'll call him 'Jones.' He was a person of stupendous intellect and scintillating wit. There was nothing in the way of mental gymnastics he hadn't accomplished or nothing he couldn't attain.
But, woe was him, he was not fair to outward view as many maidens be-or men, either.

"Jones was really hopelessly ugly.

"But he decided that marriage was a fit and delectable state; that love was a del-light, and forthwith he looked about him
for a suitable candidate for his affections, and he fell in love.

"The woman of his choice was at once very beautiful and exceedingly stupid. He looked the situation squarely in the eye and said: 'We two will regenerate a decadent world; our children will inherit their mother's form and face and my mind.'

"But, alas for the little Joneses! They were ushered into the world one by one,
all equally homely and intolerably dull.

"As for bright women marrying stupid men, I never knew any that did. But, of course, it must happen occasionally.

"When it does, I think we can justly say it's the woman's own fault.

Surplus of Bachelor Women.

"In New York City there are 230 more unmarried women than bachelors. But that is an exceptional state of affairs. In the west the men are greatly in the majority, and in most other parts of the earth. In the whole world there are 2-000,000 more men than women. This would go to show that Providence had provided a suitable mate for each woman, and a considerable percentage besides for her to select from. If she weren't satisfied with her foreordained choice, if women under-these conditions, are unsuitable and un-happily married the fault must be their own.

Mrs. Donald McLean thinks the theory of intelligent men being hoodwinked by the pretty girl is a false one.

"When people don't marry for money they marry for love," says Mrs. McLean.
"The brilliant man is no more liable to fall in love with the beautiful, but headless, woman than is his stupid brother.
It might happen, however, that the girl would receive great man's attentions while she would spurn the latter's.

"But, as a rule, I think brilliant men do not select the silly girls. A man is weak in every way who allows himself to be captured in a girl's pitfalls.

Mind Attracts Mind.

"Then love comes about so involuntarily men and women feel mental comparison without realizing that their friendship will terminate in a love affair.
"Occasionally, it is true, a man of mind marries a woman who is absolutely fatu-ous. In time, perhaps, her fatuity becomes a rest for the wreck of his mental strength. But the man who falls victim to such a woman is a person without any sparkle or sense of humor.

"As far as the brilliant woman is concerned, she almost never selects a stupid husband, because her natural mental attitude is one of respect for the masculine brain. If she herself has a mind she will look for and recognize one.

"People, as a rule, I think, are happily married," says Mrs. Orme Wilson.
"Moreover, they are pretty evenly mated.
One seldom finds the gap in mental sympathy that this talk about the choice of the foolish, pretty women by the manly man, and vice versa, would indicate.

"Of course, in all the world's matches there are many exceptions to this. Just why they occur I do not pretend to know.
"It frequently happens, that married people who were once in perfect sympathy find themselves peculiarly unfitted for life together after some years. This is probably because in youth people live mostly in their emotions, which become modified
in their emotions, which become modified year by year as the intelligence gains the precedence. If married people do not develop alike in this evolution their personalities get out of touch.

Intellectual Equality Unnecessary

"I have noticed that intellectual ineq-ualty is frequently no stumbling block to married bliss. In about the happiest household I have ever known the husband was a deep student and literateur. His wife was a sweet little body with domestic tastes and absolutely no taste for literature or desires for anything outside her home, her children, her friends and a little gaiety. Once her husband was in his study those two might have been in different worlds. This ground for companionship was lacking, yet they lived in perfect sympathy and real felicity.

ALL THE NEWS OF BASEBALL AND SPORT WORLD

GLADE PROVES HIS RIGHT TO TITLE OF SPEED MARVEL

Browns Have Now but to Take One Game to Win the Baseball Championship From the Cardinals, While Latter Team Must Take Two.

There will be no game today in the spring series between the Browns and the Cardinals. The standing of the clubs is now three games to two in favor of the American League representatives. One more victory for the Browns will clinch the championship for them.

The sixth game of the series will be played Saturday at the American League Park. The probable batteries will be: Buchanan and Suggs for the Browns and McFarland and Warner for the Cardinals.

Speed Marvel Glade was all there with the quality that earned him the title in the fifth battle with the Cardinals at American League Park Thursday afternoon, and he came in an easy winner, while his teammates merrily baited two of Nichols' twirlers all over the park from four-line to foul-line for a total of 17 hits or 17 varieties and 11 runs, the worst score of the series. As one fan who was lost from the Fair Grounds remarked: "The race was in before it started," when the boy at the center field hung up Glade and Suggs and Campbell and Warner. There could be only one result and the nine innings were played simply to determine the size of the score.

Glade had speed of the kind that makes the fan thoughtful when he realizes that this is only April. In every inning but one the big right-hander had the Cardinals in the hollow of his hand. He did things with them whenever he felt inclined and his hits all told was the extent of the batting.

It was a task for the Browns, though they had a two-day grudge against Nichols and Suggs and they took it out on Campbell and Kellum. They hit the ball every way but one, and in three innings only did they fail to score. The joyous crack of the bat brought the longest smile back to McFarland's face and the "danger tilt" of the black derby was modified to the good-natured position on the back of his head.

This is the Busy Season for the B. B. Players

'TIS SPRING, SURE

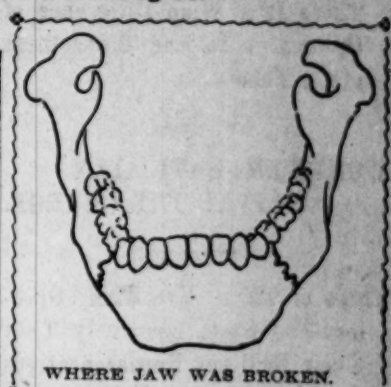

Now doth the busy B. B. player Begin to bowl and fan the air, To swat and slam and slide and swing And lumber up the racy win.

VICTIM OF "BOXING" BOUT STILL IN THE HOSPITAL

Amateur Fighter Can Eat Only Soft Foods and Has Lower Jaw Broken in Two Places, Bound With Wire as Result of Battle Before Eagles.

Permitted to eat only soft foods and liquids, with the teeth of his lower jaw tightly bound with thin platinum wire, Charles Blesse, a local boxer, is being treated at the Centenary Hospital. He was the victim of an accident that is as peculiar as it is infrequent.

Blesse was a participant in a so-called boxing exhibition Wednesday night at the headquarters of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, 2726 Pine street. In a bout with Jack Garrett he received two blows that resulted in a double fracture of the lower jaw.

Blesse and Garrett met in a three-round bout at 135 pounds. From the tap of the song they went at a whirlwind pace. The first round was replete with heavy blows and several clean knockdowns resulted. Both men possessed tremendous hitting powers and the blows that landed squarely rebounded through the room.

Shortly after the second round began Blesse, breathing hard and with his mouth partly open, rushed at Garrett. Anxious to land a blow, he left his face unguarded. Garrett swung hard with his left. He followed with his right and the two blows struck almost simultaneously on either side of the chin.

The injury is a very peculiar as well as very painful, said Dr. Newcomb. "Fractures of the lower jaw are much less frequent than in the upper, because of the extra hardness and density of the bone. For the same reason, the break generally follows an irregular and jagged course. Blesse's injury is unique in that it is the result of two blows and that it consists of two breaks, equally clean-cut and distinct. The hard bone being caught between opposite forces was cracked like a shell. Had his mouth been closed the accident would not have occurred."

To Renew American Derby

A renewal of the American Derby and a race meeting of 35 days at Washington Park this summer is the program of the Chicago organization, according to reports in political circles. The election of Judge Dunne is responsible for this, those close to the new mayor claiming that he believes that while there is racing in the rest of the country there should be no discrimination against the city course.

It is expected that stake announcements for the meeting will be issued within a few days. The directors of the club have already made preliminary arrangements for opening state lists and agents are to be dispatched to the various turf centers at once to canvass the horses, owners and collect nominations.

TO END RACING IN STATE OF ARKANSAS

CLUB REFUSES TO LICENSE HILDRETH

The Jockey Club stewards have refused a trainer's license to Sam Hildreth, the western racing man. It was expected that the turf executives would let down the bars for Hildreth at this meeting, after having kept him out for five years, and a few days ago Hildreth's friends were sure of his good standing.

BET ON WHITE, SAYS MITCHELL

A St. Louis friend of Charlie Mitchell has received a letter from the manager of Jabez White advising him to back the Englishman in his coming battle. Mitchell apparently does not lack confidence in White's ability to trim James Edward.

GOOD BLOOD TELLS ITS OWN STORY

And tells it eloquently in the bright eye, the supple, elastic movement, the smooth, soft skin, glowing with health, a body sound and well, an active brain, good appetite and digestion, refreshing sleep, energy to perform the duties and capacity to enjoy the pleasures of life. The blood is the most vital part of the body; every organ, muscle, tissue, nerve, sinew and bone is dependent on it for nourishment and strength, and as it circulates through the system, pure and strong, it furnishes to these different parts all the healthful qualities nature intended. When, for any cause, the blood becomes impure or diseased, it tells a different story, quite as forceful in its way. Itching, burning skin diseases, muddy, sallow complexions, disfiguring sores, boils, carbuncles, etc., show the presence, in the blood, of some foreign matter or poison. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Contagious Blood Poison and Scrofula, are effects of a deeply poisoned blood circulation. These may either be inherited or acquired, but the seat of trouble is the same—the blood. S. S. S., a purely vegetable blood purifier, cleanses and purifies the circulation and makes it strong and clean. Under its purifying and tonic effects all poisons and impurities are expelled from the blood, the general health is built up; all disfiguring eruptions and blemishes disappear, the skin becomes soft and smooth and robust health blesses life. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison and all diseases of the blood are cured by S. S. S. Book on the blood and any medical advice, free of charge.

Another Failure for Jiu Jitsu

Special to the Post-Dispatch. NEW YORK, April 7.—George Bothner, representing the Occident, overpowered Katsuguma Higashi of the Orient Thursday night. They met in the Grand Central Palace to try the merits of catch-as-catch can wrestling against the Japanese art of defense, jiu jitsu, and the hundreds in the big building left convinced that the Jap-of-Higashi type is not the yellow peril. The little subject of the Mikado was very cautious and game, but the American put him on his back three times and won the match.

Wilson Beat Holly

Special to the Post-Dispatch. PHILADELPHIA, April 7.—Jack Jeanette of New York failed to appear at the Broadway Athletic Club last night, where he was scheduled to meet "Black Bill" of Merchantsville in the star bout. Dave Holly and "Kid" Wilson of Orange, N. J., were on and a most exciting bout resulted. Wilson led all the way. Holly appeared to be in poor shape and gave a very poor exhibition.

Quill Won From Schindler

Special to the Post-Dispatch. Stickney's "NEW TARIFF" Cigar 5c. Ten-cent quality for five cents! Heretofore impossible—and now only by the terms of the new commercial treaty between the United States and Cuba. If you smoke ten-centers—save half your cigar money. Five cents paid for a "New Tariff" actually buys as good a smoke as ten cents would get a year ago. It buys you a cigar of the sort you are willing to tell your friends about. The standard of workmanship in the making of the "New Tariff" is the very highest. Mechanical equipment may not interest you; sanitary equipment should. Every sanitary appliance that brains and money have been able to produce, is used to insure the smoker absolute freedom from anything undesirable. The "New Tariff" is the latest product of newly-applied modern methods that have absolutely revolutionized the cigar industry. Sold by All Cigar Dealers Wm. A. Stickney Cigar Co., St. Louis, Mo.

BILL FOR FREE BRIDGE BEFORE ILLINOIS HOUSE

Proposed Law Will Grant the Right to Build Across the Mississippi River From St. Louis to East St. Louis.

CONTEMPLATED ACTION LIKE THAT IN MISSOURI.

St. Louisans Who Secured the Introduction of Prospective Statute Do Not Fear Opposition of the Terminal People.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 7.—A bill was introduced in the Illinois Legislature this morning amending the present statute and giving authority to any municipality to construct a bridge over any navigable stream which forms the boundary between Illinois and any other state, provided assent is given by Congress.

The real purpose of the bill is to give authority to St. Louis to build a new bridge across the Mississippi river. A. B. Barrett and Charles Zeibold, president and vice-president, respectively, of the Citizens' Municipal Free Bridge and Improved Terminal Association of St. Louis, brought the bill to Springfield and gave it to Representative Karach of the St. Clair district for introduction. Messrs. Barrett and Zeibold arrived here yesterday afternoon, spending the day and night with former Attorney-General H. J. Hamilton, under whose direction they acted in presenting the measure to the Legislature.

Under the present statute the assent of the state is given only to business corporations and associations to construct bridges under similar conditions. The bill introduced adds municipal corporations. Besides, it strikes out an old proviso attached to the present statute, which makes it necessary that adjoining states enact legislation similar to the Illinois statute before any corporation or association can take advantage of the Illinois law.

It is claimed this proviso was tacked on the present law for the benefit of the St. Louis Terminal Association now controlling both bridges at St. Louis. In effect, the proviso gives a monopoly to the bridges already constructed. In any event, former Attorney-General Crow of Missouri has held that the old proviso is ambiguous in its terms and constantly leaves open to discussion and litigation the meaning of the phrase, "other states shall grant similar privileges."

Nothing is said in the old law about tunnels, while the new bill empowers the construction of either bridges or tunnels. The text of Karach's bill, No. 621, is:

Text of the Bill.
A bill for an act to amend an act entitled, "An act giving the assent of the State of Illinois to the construction of bridges across navigable waters of this state and the boundaries thereof, approved March 4, 1872, in force July 1, 1872, amended by an act approved June 1, 1899, in force July 1, 1899."
Section 1. Be it enacted by the people of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly, that an act entitled, "An act giving the assent of the State of Illinois to the construction of bridges across navigable rivers in this state and upon the boundaries thereof, approved April 4, 1872, etc.," be and it is hereby amended to read:
Section 2. That the assent of the State of Illinois is hereby given any corporation or association, public, municipal or private, organized under the laws of this or any other state, to build, construct or acquire by purchase, lease, gift or otherwise, a bridge or bridges, or a tunnel or tunnels, for public use by the railroad, street cars, vehicles of all kinds and pedestrians, over or under navigable rivers and streams in this state or those forming a boundary between this and other states, whenever authorized by Congress of the United States, under such conditions and restrictions as Congress may impose.
Sec. 3. It shall be lawful for all corporations or associations to acquire, hold, use and retain by condemnation, according to the law of eminent domain of this state, or by purchase, lease, gift or otherwise, said bridge or bridges, tunnel or tunnels, in this state, and, in addition, use and operate said bridge or bridges, tunnel or tunnels, either as toll or free bridges or tunnels, as by such corporations or associations may be deemed expedient.
Representative V. E. Trautmann of East St. Louis, who is one of the Republican House leaders, said this morning he has not made up his mind whether he can support the bill.
"Some of my people favor a free bridge."

Diels
OLIVE STREET, At Cor. Ninth

mid Trautmann, "while others do not, I must get the sentiment of my district before pledging myself. It depends largely on where the free bridge might be located on the Illinois side. If it is a mile or more from East St. Louis it would be of no benefit to the laboring people who cross the river morning and evening, because they would naturally pay the 5-cent fare to go over on the old bridge. If the free one was not easy of access," the Representative Karach, the bridge bill, has given it his unqualified approval. A free bridge has been one of Karach's ideas for many years, but he has always been without the help or assistance of an important association or organization, such as the one recently formed in St. Louis and which now is backing the new bill.

Don't Expect Opposition.
Messrs. Barrett and Zeibold will return to St. Louis tonight, but will return next week to do everything in their power to hasten action on the free bridge bill. They say that they do not expect serious opposition to the measure from the St. Louis Terminal Association. This belief is based on their work at Jefferson City, where the Terminal Association offered no resistance to the passage of their bill in Missouri carrying a similar object.

The bill introduced today amends the old Illinois law so that it conforms perfectly to the bill recently passed by the Missouri Legislature. Gov. Folk of Missouri personally urged the hastening and passage of the bill at Jefferson City and it is probable that Gov. Deneen will be urged to act in a similar manner. Before Barrett and Zeibold return here next week their association will make its plans for pushing the bill.

East St. Louis High at Debate.
Students of the East St. Louis High School will attend the debate to be held by the Manual Training and Central High schools in the auditorium of the Central High school Friday evening. The East St. Louis school is a member of the Interscholastic Debating League, under whose auspices the debate will be conducted, and will the first debate of the season from Manual Training School in January. The third debate will be between East St. Louis and the winner of Friday night's contest.

WITH HER DRESS AFLAME SHE RAN TO NEIGHBOR.

Mrs. E. D. Haynes

While fronting beside a gas stove in her home, 4036 Olive street, Thursday afternoon, Mrs. E. D. Haynes leaned over the stove too closely and her kimono caught fire. Almost instantly the light and flowing fabric was in flames, and Mrs. Haynes, screaming, rushed out of the house, knowing that she was alone and helpless, and ran into the hallway of her next-door neighbor, Mrs. Edmund Cormier of 4034A Olive street.

Mrs. Cormier ran to the narrow hallway in which Mrs. Haynes stood and fearlessly began trying to beat out the flames with her hands. Realizing that her own clothing was in danger of being ignited in such close quarters, she forced Mrs. Haynes out through the hall and into the back yard came to her assistance and together they extinguished the flames.

It was found that Mrs. Haynes was not dangerously injured, though her wounds are painful.

DON'T WANT LAWYERS TO GET HIS FARMS

Z. B. Job of Alton Distributes Them Among Children to Prevent Will Contests.

Because he is 25 years old, feels that he has not long to live and desires to prevent the enticement of lawyers by possible contests over his will, Z. B. Job of Alton, Ill., is dividing his property among his children while he is still alive.

Thursday he made a gift of 1240 acres of land near Alton to his two sons and two daughters, Frederick W. Job of Chicago and Z. B. Job, Jr., Mrs. H. J. Bowman and Miss Alice Job of Alton.

The land is said to be worth over $150,000. Christmas, Job made his children a present of 60 acres of fine farming land near Alton. He was formerly sheriff of Madison County and is said to be the largest property owner in the county.

ROME, April 7.—Several reforms have been introduced in the military corps of the Vatican tending to better the financial conditions of the Pontifical troops and establishing an increased system of pensions on retirement. The Pontifical gendarmes have been allowed to organize a brass band under the direction of a prominent master. Concerts are to be given from time to time at the Vatican, at some of which the Pope has promised to be present, and the band will be allowed to take a prominent part at Pontifical functions.

OCTOGENARIAN GOES ON SPREE

Stabs Companion and Is Sent to Jail—His Mother, Neglected, Starves to Death.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., March 27.—Miguel Escobera, 80 years of age, went upon a spree and got into a fracas and stabbed a companion. He was taken in the midst of the brawl by an officer and locked up. The next morning the judge sent him to jail for six months.

A few days later neighbors found his mother, 106 years old, lying in an old wagon near their hut, nearly dead of starvation. She was taken in and cared for, but she was too far gone to live, and she died soon afterward.

She had lived in this part of the state 35 years, and took active part in the Mexican war, handling a musket in defense of Mexico, her native country.

WILL GIVE PLAY APRIL 14.

Actors' Church Alliance Performance to Be in Music Hall.

Owing to the heavy sale of seats the production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," under the auspices of the Actors' Church Alliance, has been transferred from Odeon recital hall to Music Hall at Thirteenth and Olive streets, and, owing to the work involved in preparing the Music Hall stage for the production the performance will be given Friday evening, April 14, instead of Monday, April 10, as announced heretofore.

Seats already secured for the recital hall Monday night will be good for the same seats at the Music Hall Friday, and all benefit tickets for the performance are exchangeable for regular Music Hall tickets. Where reserved seats have already been obtained for the Odeon it will not be necessary to exchange them, for they will be honored for the same seats in the Music Hall.

The production will be made much more pretentious in Music Hall than it could have been in recital hall and will include approximately 100 in the chorus and ballet with an orchestra of not less than 25 pieces.
